

NARI Technology (600406.SS): 2Q26 results in line; stay Buy on UHV tailwinds and overseas potential

Nari Tech reported 2Q26 revenue/gross profit/operating profit/net profit at Rmb18,293mn/Rmb4,636mn/Rmb2,869mn/Rmb2,351mn, +19%/+9%/+9%/+3% yoy, +7%/+1%/+5%/-5% vs. GSe. Core revenue and operating profit were in line, with net profit slightly below on Rmb48mn FX loss and Rmb282mn of credit impairment in 2Q26. We revise down our 2026E EPS by 4% to reflect the result and one-off FX and credit impairment loss, and revise down our 2027E-30E EPS by 2-3% to reflect the latest guidance of lower-margin business growth to continue to outpace other business. Our 12-m TP arrives at Rmb29.9 (vs. previously Rmb30.6), still based on a 2027E P/E of 25x. We maintain our Buy rating on Nari Tech, mainly on 1) Nari Tech's leadership in converter valves positioning the company as a main beneficiary of UHV DC construction pipelines (3-4 new approvals each year in the 15th Five-Year Plan per management); 2) steady progress to expand overseas business in relay protection and automation, substation/distribution automation, and ESS, with total export revenue at 197% yoy in 1H26; 3) holding a dominant position in domestic grid dispatch software and digitalization services for State Grid and Southern Grid to benefit from new dispatch system roll-out tailwinds and potential development of AI digitalization applications.

Key results highlights:

Non-grid revenue growth continued to outpace grid revenue: Power grid industry revenue reached Rmb13.9bn in 1H26, up 6% yoy, while non-grid industry revenue significantly outperformed at Rmb13.8bn, up 24% yoy.

Robust new contract growth, with 1H26 total new signed contract value of Rmb45.6bn, +29% yoy.

Overseas revenue growth outpaced domestic revenue: Overseas revenue reached Rmb5.9bn, up 197% yoy, supported by large projects such as the Oman Duqm energy storage project, while domestic revenue was -2% yoy. In addition to ESS, the company is expanding relay protection and automation, substation/distribution automation overseas, while targeting microgrids, data centers and industrial parks. It is also building local operations and certifications to improve delivery and support margins.

1H26 revenue breakdown by segments:

Power grid automation revenue reached Rmb13.3bn, up 8.8% yoy, with full-year growth expected at around 10% yoy per mgmt (GSe: 11% yoy mainly driven by UHV revenue recognition). 1H26 GPM was 29.9%, -0.4pp yoy.

- Relay protection and flexible transmission segment maintained 30%+ yoy growth in 1H26, among which UHV revenue reached c.Rmb3.0bn, approximately doubling from c.Rmb1.45bn in 1H25, with full-year revenue expected at Rmb6bn. UHV backlog exceeded Rmb8.0bn as of end-June, and year-end backlog could remain broadly stable at this level or slightly higher, based on current project awards and commissioning schedules. During the 15th Five-Year Plan period, management expects overall 15-20 UHV DC project approvals, implying around 3-4 project starts per year, although the actual tendering pace will ultimately depend on NDRC approvals and formal procurement schedules.
- Dispatch and substation revenue maintained 10%+ yoy growth, with stable order intake growth driven by rollout of new dispatch system from provincial-level to prefecture- and county-level, as well as equipment upgrade for State Grid.
- Distribution and consumption-related revenue declined in 1H26, in line with industry tendering weakness.

Power grid digitalization revenue reached Rmb3.7bn, -5% yoy, mainly due to delayed recognition of State Grid's fourth batch of digitalization projects from 2025, but the company saw solid project wins in new batches this year (GSe: 2026E revenue growth flat yoy). 1H26 GPM was at 25.6%, +2.2pp yoy. In the meantime, together with State Grid and Southern Grid, the company is currently conducting research and designing overall technology frameworks and implementation plans of AI, which should support stronger segment revenue growth over time.

Power generation revenue reached Rmb9.6bn, up 47% yoy, with 2026 full-year revenue expected to grow at least 30% yoy per management. Within power generation, ESS business contributed Rmb5bn representing more than half of segment revenue, with the ratio likely staying stable for 2H26 and the full year. The particularly high storage contribution in 1H26 was partly driven by the Oman Duqm energy storage project, with a total contract value of approximately Rmb3.3bn, of which around Rmb2.0bn was recognized in 1H26. Segment gross margin has declined in recent years (1H26 GPM was 18.6%, -3pp yoy) as the revenue mix shifted toward ESS with a GPM of 15-20%. However, the pace of margin decline is expected to gradually narrow.

Industrial internet revenue reached Rmb9.5bn, -23% yoy in 1H26, mainly due to revenue recognition timing issue from transportation or industrial customers, where full-year revenue is expected to grow over 20% yoy. 1H26 GPM was 24.4%, +4.4pp yoy.

SST products under development: The company has launched its second-generation "Rui" SST series in June 2026 for data centers, ultra-fast charging, renewable integration and energy storage, and is developing a third-generation product targeted for testing by end-2026. Data centers offer the largest potential market, while ultra-fast charging may commercialize faster.

Investment thesis, valuation methodology and risks

Investment Thesis - Nari Tech

Nari Tech is a leading power equipment player in China, holding dominant positions in UHV converter valves, grid digitalization, dispatch software, automation solutions, and secondary equipment such as SVC/STATCOM systems and relay protection at 34%-70% market share. We are positive on Nari Tech as a structural beneficiary of the incremental investment towards China's power grid modernization needs, ensuring a smarter, more flexible and more reliable grid, particularly as the challenges of integrating intermittent and volatile renewable energy sources grow. We believe Nari Tech can deliver solid 9%/12% revenue/net profit CAGR over 2026E-30E, outperforming China's grid investment of an 8% CAGR as the company especially benefits from the structurally-growing areas of grid investment, ultra-high-voltage (UHV) and smart grid. We expect the company to maintain its leadership in its product portfolio due to its dominant position in a stable market landscape and relationship with the State Grid. Key catalysts include State Grid's work plans and the release of the 15th Five-Year Energy/Grid Plan in 2026, and AI-related capex growth news. Nari Tech is currently undervalued compared to its historical track record as well as domestic peers. However, we expect the company's strong financial profile (GPM/OPM at 25%/13% and a leading ROE of 17% expected in 2026E-30E) and its software-heavy revenue mix (40% of total 2024 revenue) to support a valuation premium for Nari Tech among its China industrial

Price Target Risks and Methodology – Nari Tech

Key risks: (1) Lower-than-expected fiscal support and the State Grid announcement for 2025 budget, (2) UHV project approval pace falling behind its announced work plan.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Quantum is Goldman Sachs' proprietary database providing access to detailed financial statement histories, forecasts and ratios. It can be used for in-depth analysis of a single company, or to make comparisons between companies in different sectors and markets.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at <https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html>.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are removed pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs' involvement in a transaction, and in certain other circumstances. Early-Stage Biotech (ES). An investment rating and a target price are not assigned pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when this company has neither a drug, treatment or medical device that has passed a Phase II clinical trial nor a license to distribute a post-Phase II drug, treatment or medical device. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company.

The analysts named in this report may have from time to time discussed with our clients, including Goldman Sachs salespersons and traders, or may discuss in this report, trading strategies that reference catalysts or events that may have a near-term impact on the market price of the equity securities discussed in this report, which impact may be directionally counter to the analyst's published price target expectations for such stocks. Any such trading strategies are distinct from and do not affect the analyst's fundamental equity rating for such stocks, which rating reflects a stock's return potential relative to its coverage universe as described herein.

We and our affiliates, officers, directors, and employees will from time to time have long or short positions in, act as principal in, make a market or act as liquidity provider in, and buy or sell, any securities, derivatives, or other financial instruments referred to in this research (including any financial instruments issued by the companies referred to herein), unless otherwise prohibited by regulation or Goldman Sachs policy.

The views attributed to third party presenters at Goldman Sachs arranged conferences, including individuals from other parts of Goldman Sachs, do not necessarily reflect those of Global Investment Research and are not an official view of Goldman Sachs.

Any third party referenced herein, including any salespeople, traders and other professionals or members of their household, may have positions in the products mentioned that are inconsistent with the views expressed by analysts named in this report.

This research is not an offer to sell or the solicitation of an offer to buy any security in any jurisdiction where such an offer or solicitation would be illegal. It does not constitute a personal recommendation or take into account the particular investment objectives, financial situations, or needs of individual clients. Clients should consider whether any advice or recommendation in this research is suitable for their particular circumstances and, if appropriate, seek professional advice, including tax advice. The price and value of investments referred to in this research and the income from them may fluctuate. Past performance is not a guide to future performance, future returns are not guaranteed, and a loss of original capital may occur. Fluctuations in exchange rates could have adverse effects on the value or price of, or income derived from, certain investments.

Certain transactions, including those involving futures, options, and other derivatives, give rise to substantial risk and are not suitable for all investors. Investors should review current options and futures disclosure documents which are available from Goldman Sachs sales representatives or at <https://www.theocc.com/about/publications/character-risks.jsp> and https://www.goldmansachs.com/disclosures/cftc_fcm_disclosures. Transaction costs may be significant in option strategies calling for multiple purchase and sales of options such as spreads. Supporting documentation will be supplied upon request.

Differing Levels of Service provided by Global Investment Research: The level and types of services provided to you by Goldman Sachs Global Investment Research may vary as compared to that provided to internal and other external clients of GS, depending on various factors including your individual preferences as to the frequency and manner of receiving communication, your risk profile and investment focus and perspective (e.g., marketwide, sector specific, long term, short term), the size and scope of your overall client relationship with GS, and legal and regulatory constraints. As an example, certain clients may request to receive notifications when research on specific securities is published, and certain clients may request that specific data underlying analysts' fundamental analysis available on our internal client websites be delivered to them electronically through data feeds or otherwise. No change to an analyst's fundamental research views (e.g., ratings, price targets, or material changes to earnings estimates for equity securities), will be communicated to any client prior to inclusion of such information in a research report broadly disseminated through electronic publication to our internal client websites or through other means, as necessary, to all clients who are entitled to receive such reports.

All research reports are disseminated and available to all clients simultaneously through electronic publication to our internal client websites. Not all research content is redistributed to our clients or available to third-party aggregators, nor is Goldman Sachs responsible for the redistribution of our research by third party aggregators. For research, models or other data related to one or more securities, markets or asset classes (including related services) that may be available to you, please contact your GS representative or go to <https://research.gs.com>.

Disclosure information is also available at <https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html> or from Research Compliance, 200 West Street, New York, NY 10282.
