Presenters: Michael Hartung, President and CCO; Kevin Krumm, CFO; and Chris Butler, the President, Critical and Embedded Power

Bottom Line: 1) Flex discussed Remainco growth drivers in both RMS and ITS including robotics, industrial, medical, and advanced networking; 2) Flex commented that the demand environment for CPI remains solid, and highlighted its recent proposed acquisition of EPC Power; and 3) Management discussed capital allocation and balance sheet considerations.

Key Takeaways

1) Flex discussed Remainco growth drivers in both RMS and ITS including robotics, industrial, medical, and advanced networking: Recall Flex announced its intention to spin-off its Power and Cloud portfolio (i.e. the CPI segment) into an independent company, which it expects to take place in 1QCY27 (4QFY27). Remainco FLEX plans to retain Regulated Manufacturing Solutions (which is comprised of the automotive, healthcare, and industrials ex critical & embedded power businesses) and Integrated Technology Solutions (ITS, which is comprised of the communications and lifestyle/consumer devices businesses). Michael Hartung is set to become the CEO of Remainco.

The company expects solid growth in certain parts of Remainco, but that it will continue to manage the portfolio and focus on expanding margins and EPS. The company commented that Remainco non-GAAP EBIT margins have increased to 5.7% as of FY26 from 5.0% as of FY25.

For RMS, the company reiterated that it continues to expect revenue to be up mid to high single digits yoy for FY27, with strength from areas such as energy infrastructure, healthcare, and warehouse automation. Specifically, the company discussed the following end market trends within RMS:

- Healthcare: Management noted connected medical devices and drug delivery

Goldman Sachs does and seeks to do business with companies covered in its research reports. As a result, investors should be aware that the firm may have a conflict of interest that could affect the objectivity of this report. Investors should consider this report as only a single factor in making their investment decision. For Reg AC certification and other important disclosures, see the Disclosure Appendix, or go to www.gs.com/research/hedge.html. Analysts employed by non-US affiliates are not registered/qualified as research analysts with FINRA in the U.S.

systems (which include a recent win with Novo Nordisk for drug delivery systems) as potential catalyst for growth.

- Auto: The company expects this market to be stable. While the company has historically viewed auto as a key growth driver, management now expects a more measured outlook given factors such as the performance of Western auto OEMs, and pace of product ramps. Flex is now focused on growth in certain applications, including with its compute platform for software defined vehicles, and power.
- Industrials/energy infrastructure: Management expects good growth, including with its contract manufacturing business for power generation, distribution, and storage which is benefiting from the datacenter energy infrastructure build out.
- Automation and robotics: Management discussed opportunities with robotics/humanoids and the broader category receiving an uplift from continued regionalization. On robotics, the company commented that it operates as a customer, supplier, and innovator. As an example the company highlighted its partnership with Teradyne where it is both a customer and supplier of robotic products. Recall the company is collaborating with Teradyne to build and utilize Teradyne's cobots and AMRs. Specifically on humanoids, the company commented that its capabilities around compute and actuation (similar to that in auto) set it up to participate in the humanoid market longer term. Flex thinks fully bipedal humanoids could take at least a few years to become meaningful, but semi stationary or wheeled robots could be used more quickly.

For ITS, management discussed that it increased the segment's outlook with the last earnings report to growth of high single to low double digits (from flat to up low single digits prior) driven by strength with its communication business tied to advanced networking products (e.g high speed switches and optical gear). Flex also commented that it will continue to actively manage the broader portfolio, and the Lifestyle/Consumer part of ITS has historically been areas this has occurred.

2) Flex commented that the demand environment for CPI remains solid, and highlighted its recent proposed acquisition of EPC Power: Management reiterated its expectation of 65-75% yoy revenue growth for CPI, and noted that it is not seeing any impact from recent policy proposals to restrict where datacenters can be built. Management also broadly spoke to having the supply available to meet its outlook, and its guidance contemplated the supply chain status.

On the EPC power acquisition, recall on 9/3/2026 after the market close, FLEX announced that it entered into a definitive agreement to acquire EPC Power for $4.4 bn, subject to customary regulatory approvals and the satisfaction of other customary closing conditions. Flex expects the transaction to close in 4QCY26 (3QFY27), and that EPC will become a part of Flex's Cloud and Power Infrastructure (CPI) segment. Management reiterated its expectation for EPC Power to generate ~$800 mn of revenue in CY26 and grow 40% yoy organically in CY27 driven by datacenter. The company also commented that it has good backlog coverage to meet EPC Power's 2027 outlook. The company also expects the EBITDA margin to expand by double digit percentage points to ~30% in CY27. This implies revenue/EBITDA of about $1.12 bn/$336 mn in CY27. Management commented that the drivers of margins expansion include absorbing production capacity that is coming online and a positive margin mix towards the datacenter market (from utility).

The company commented that EPC products would be complementary. Per Flex, EPC Power is a leading provider of intelligent power conversion solutions for data center and grid/utility/energy applications, providing internally developed hardware, software and controls with U.S. based engineering and manufacturing. Beyond that, the company highlighted EPC Power's future technology roadmap includes a centralized rectifier for 800V, and also an SST product.

3) Management discussed capital allocation and potential balance sheet considerations post the spin: Management noted that it plans to maintain its investment grade status for both companies. The company also reiterated that Remainco Flex will own up to 19.9% of Spinco and will use that stake to deleverage Remainco.

Valuation/Risks

We are Buy rated on Flex shares. Our 12-month price target of $154 is based on 21X Q5-Q8 EPS including SBC. Our estimates do not include the proposed transaction of EPC Power.

Key risks to our view relate to macroeconomic demand, supply/demand dynamics, Flex's ability to expand margins, tariff impacts and geopolitical uncertainty, and FCF.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at <https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html>.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are removed pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs' involvement in a transaction, and in certain other circumstances. Early-Stage Biotech (ES). An investment rating and a target price are not assigned pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when this company has neither a drug, treatment or medical device that has passed a Phase II clinical trial nor a license to distribute a post-Phase II drug, treatment or medical device. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company.

Fluctuations in exchange rates could have adverse effects on the value or price of, or income derived from, certain investments.

Certain transactions, including those involving futures, options, and other derivatives, give rise to substantial risk and are not suitable for all investors. Investors should review current options and futures disclosure documents which are available from Goldman Sachs sales representatives or at <https://www.theocc.com/about/publications/character-risks.jsp> and https://www.goldmansachs.com/disclosures/cftc_fcm_disclosures. Transaction costs may be significant in option strategies calling for multiple purchase and sales of options such as spreads. Supporting documentation will be supplied upon request.

Differing Levels of Service provided by Global Investment Research: The level and types of services provided to you by Goldman Sachs Global Investment Research may vary as compared to that provided to internal and other external clients of GS, depending on various factors including your individual preferences as to the frequency and manner of receiving communication, your risk profile and investment focus and perspective (e.g., marketwide, sector specific, long term, short term), the size and scope of your overall client relationship with GS, and legal and regulatory constraints. As an example, certain clients may request to receive notifications when research on specific securities is published, and certain clients may request that specific data underlying analysts' fundamental analysis available on our internal client websites be delivered to them electronically through data feeds or otherwise. No change to an analyst's fundamental research views (e.g., ratings, price targets, or material changes to earnings estimates for equity securities), will be communicated to any client prior to inclusion of such information in a research report broadly disseminated through electronic publication to our internal client websites or through other means, as necessary, to all clients who are entitled to receive such reports.

All research reports are disseminated and available to all clients simultaneously through electronic publication to our internal client websites. Not all research content is redistributed to our clients or available to third-party aggregators, nor is Goldman Sachs responsible for the redistribution of our research by third party aggregators. For research, models or other data related to one or more securities, markets or asset classes (including related services) that may be available to you, please contact your GS representative or go to <https://research.gs.com>.

Disclosure information is also available at <https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html> or from Research Compliance, 200 West Street, New York, NY 10282.
