

Wistron Corporation

S-D tightness and customer diversification set up favorable pricing terms; u/g to OW

Key takeaways from Wistron's 2Q26 analyst call were mixed: (1) an in-line 2Q26 OPM print, while earnings beat on higher non-OP gains; (2) a robust AI order outlook, prompting a GDR issuance (~7% dilution) to support working capital needs; (3) an aggressive 2026 capex plan of NT$60 bn, with further step-ups expected in coming years; and (4) new AI server customer wins starting in 2H26, which should be supportive for the margin trajectory. Wistron's stock has traded largely sideways over the past three years (up ~60% vs. TAIEX up ~170%), as slower-than-expected margin improvement has diluted the earnings upside from strong AI orders. That said, management highlighted new AI server customer wins ramping in 2H26. We believe a more diversified customer mix can improve pricing terms for NVL72 programs and help sustain (and potentially improve) Wistron's margin profile. Consequently, we raise our 2026/27 earnings estimates by 23%/31% to reflect our stronger AI accelerator outlook (CoWoS update), new AI customer wins, and Wiwynn strength. We extend our PT horizon to Jun-27 and upgrade the stock to OW with a PT of NT$260 (based on 12x 12-month forward EPS, above mid-cycle valuations due to better earnings outlook). Key downside risks include potential share loss at the anchor enterprise customer, slower-than-expected margin improvement, and higher-than-expected interest expense. Our ODM pecking order is Wiwynn > Wistron > Quanta > Hon Hai > Pegatron > Inventec > Compal.

- Valuation discounts reflect customer concentration; diversification can help. Wistron is trading at ~10x FY27E EPS, the lowest multiple among ODM peers. We attribute the discount to an unfavorable customer mix, a higher leverage profile, and slow margin improvement. As ODM server S-D tightens, Wistron has been re-negotiating business terms with customers. This, coupled with new customer wins, should support a more constructive margin trajectory over the next 12 months. As a result, versus our prior assumption of meaningful OPM dilution on new high-ASP programs, we now model a more stable margin profile (vs. management's view of margin expansion).
- Robust AI demand outlook across modules and systems, with tailwinds from Wiwynn. We raise our AI revenue growth assumptions for Wistron to +200%/+87% in 2026/27 to reflect our recent upward revision to GPU module shipments, stronger-than-expected NVL72 volumes (JPMe at 16k/20k in FY26/27), and higher BoM costs. We also believe Wiwynn is benefiting from sustained CSP general server strength and robust AWS T3 orders. There is also upside optionality from a potential new ASIC customer win.
- Conservative PC and enterprise server outlook, networking still 10x+ growth this year. Management is conservative on the 2H26 PC and enterprise server shipment outlook and guided a 10-20% decline/ flattish HoH trend in 2H26, respectively. Management expects PC end demand weakness from negative price elasticity due to memory-led product price hikes. In contrast, Wistron expects networking revenue to grow 10x+ this year from a low base with sustained momentum into next year, driven by a Cisco project win in a key U.S. CSP and potential new customer wins. The higher-margin networking business bodes well for Wistron's margin profile.

Investment Thesis, Valuation and Risks

Wistron Corporation (Overweight; Price Target: NT$260.00)

Investment Thesis

We believe a more diversified customer mix can improve pricing terms for NVL72 programs and help sustain (and potentially improve) Wistron's margin profile. Improved margin profile, coupled with fast-growing AI server revenue due to strong AI demand and new customer wins, implies strong earnings momentum over the next 1-2 years. Diversified customer portfolio and rising AI earnings contribution also bode well for the stock valuation. OW. Our ODM pecking order is Wiwynn > Wistron > Quanta > Hon Hai > Pegatron > Inventec > Compal.

Valuation

Our Jun-27 PT of NT$260 is based on 12x 12-month forward EPS, in line with mid-cycle valuations and slightly higher than our previous 11x due to faster-than-expected margin improvement, strong AI demand, and a diversified customer portfolio.

Risks to Rating and Price Target

Key downside risks include potential share loss at the anchor enterprise customer, slower-than-expected margin improvement, and higher-than-expected interest expense.

Important Disclosures

Company-Specific Disclosures: J.P. Morgan does and seeks to do business with companies covered in its research reports. As a result, investors should be aware that the firm may have a conflict of interest that could affect the objectivity of this report. Investors should consider this report as only a single factor in making their investment decision. Important disclosures, including price charts and credit opinion history tables (if applicable), are available for compendium reports and all J.P. Morgan–covered companies, and certain non-covered companies, by visiting <https://www.jpmm.com/research/disclosures>, calling 1-800-477-0406, or e-mailing research.disclosure.inquiries@jpmorgan.com with your request.

Explanation of Equity Research Ratings, Designations and Analyst(s) Coverage Universe:

J.P. Morgan uses the following rating system: Overweight (over the duration of the price target indicated in this report, we expect this stock will outperform the average total return of the stocks in the Research Analyst’s, or the Research Analyst’s team’s, coverage universe); Neutral (over the duration of the price target indicated in this report, we expect this stock will perform in line with the average total return of the stocks in the Research Analyst’s, or the Research Analyst’s team’s, coverage universe); and Underweight (over the duration of the price target indicated in this report, we expect this stock will underperform the average total return of the stocks in the Research Analyst’s, or the Research Analyst’s team’s, coverage universe. NR is Not Rated. In this case, J.P. Morgan has removed the rating and, if applicable, the price target, for this stock because of either a lack of a sufficient fundamental basis or for legal, regulatory or policy reasons. The previous rating and, if applicable, the price target, no longer should be relied upon. An NR designation is not a recommendation or a rating. Some stocks under coverage have a rating but no price target; in these cases, we expect the stock will outperform/perform in line/underperform the average total return of the stocks in the Research Analyst’s, or the Research Analyst’s team’s, coverage universe of the relevant duration of the region. In our Asia (ex-Australia and ex-India) and U.K. small- and mid-cap Equity Research, each stock’s expected total return is compared to the expected total return of a benchmark country market index, not to those Research Analysts’ coverage universe. If it does not appear in the Important Disclosures section of this report, the certifying Research Analyst’s coverage universe can be found on J.P. Morgan’s Research website, <https://www.jpmorganmarkets.com>.
