Citi's Inference Ahead - Building the Rails for Scaled Intelligence

CITI'S TAKE

Gemini 4 Argon (9/30) scores 53 on AA, matching Fable 5.1 and GPT-6 Astra. The model's design extends the frontier trend of building models for agents tackling multi-step work across ever-larger software projects, while delayed broad availability follows a wider industry shift toward phased releases that give providers more time to strengthen safeguards and improve efficiency before monetization. Across the top 10 providers, the only models that improved intelligence while lowering task costs relative to their predecessors were proprietary models, highlighting a renewed interest in price-performance among proprietary model providers (Figure 13). The next step for providers, and a likely focus during World Summit AI next week (Figure 3), is converting longer reasoning into lower cost per completed workflow.

Consumer. Always-on assistants are becoming a vehicle for rapidly deploying more autonomous AI in consumer markets. Meta's Muse reached 5M U.S. downloads within 22 days of launch (Tech Crunch, 9/21), a pace that exceeded the early mobile adoption curve of ChatGPT. Accelerating adoption suggests AI products are diffusing through consumer channels faster with each successive generation. While we were at Decagon Dialogues, the keynote revealed customers like Delta and Verizon have a strong interest in AI concierges spanning discovery, purchase, onboarding, support, and growth, though governance remains a key hurdle as enterprises weigh how much autonomy to grant agents. The result is a sizable long-term opportunity for agentic systems for enterprises, even if deployment timelines lag underlying demand.

Security. Greater safety and anti-distillation measures (OpenAI, 9/30) may continue to draw out processes between pretraining cycles, making proprietary providers' current 12-point intelligence lead harder to sustain against open models (Figure 8). NVIDIA's runtime and DPU controls (9/28) suggest companies will increasingly enforce identity, permissions, isolation, and auditing outside the model. Google's Fairwind Program illustrates how frontier labs are pairing limited-access models with vetted defenders, potentially making controlled access a competitive advantage.

Utilization. H100 and B200 rental prices rose 2.2% and 2.8% WoW, while B300 fell 6.5%, compressing the B300 premium over B200 by 56% (Figure 20). The WoW convergence is constructive for utilization. Firm H100 and B200 pricing signals durable demand for installed capacity, while a lower B300 premium should accelerate next-generation adoption as deployments catch up. Meanwhile, Context Language Models (Figure 2) show how architecture advances can improve software efficiency by letting models actively manage and update their own context, yielding 5% higher 12-hour agent scores with 59% fewer FLOPs. Additionally, Meta's Suffix Cache Reuse cut server-side compute by 35% without affecting performance, helping make new agentic workloads viable.

Advanced Micro Devices

(AMD.O; US$615.73; 1; 01 Oct 26; 16:00)

Valuation

Our TP on AMD is $575. We value AMD using SOTP analysis with data center GPU/CPU biz at $267/$207 (27/25x 2028 PE), client $31 (15x), gaming $2 (6x), embedded $29 (20x), and net cash per share ~$40. Our target PE multiples are in-line with respective peer group averages.

Risks

Competition: AMD competes directly with Intel in the microprocessor market. Consequently, any fluctuations in market share between AMD and Intel could result in risk to our estimates. AMD competes directly with NVIDIA in the graphics and AI GPU market. Consequently, any fluctuations in market share between AMD and NVIDIA could result in risk to our estimates.

PC End Market: AMD derives roughly 30% of sales from the PC industry, which is highly dependent on IT spending. Therefore, any major uptick/downtick in IT spending could result in upside/downside to our estimates and rating for AMD.

Valuation: While AMD is currently trading slightly above its historical range, revisions to consensus revenue estimates could result in high volatility to AMD stock.

Tender Offer: Any public or private tender offer for all or part of AMD's business could drive the stock higher and cause us to re-assess our rating.

If the impact on the company from any of these factors proves to be greater than we anticipate, the stock will likely have difficulty achieving our target price. However, should they be less than anticipated, the stock could trade above our target price.

Applied Materials Inc

(AMAT.O; US$529.3; 1; 01 Oct 26; 16:00)

Valuation

We value AMAT at $710 using a 28x P/E multiple on 2028E EPS. We view a 28x multiple, above AMAT's 3-year average multiple of 21x, as appropriate given multi-year WFE upcycle, secular tailwinds, and incremental AI data center investment.

Risks

Downside risks to the achievement of our target price include the following: 1) As fab utilization and capital equipment orders are closely linked to the stock price, any material differences to our supply/demand model (e.g. demand drops suddenly, or supply increases more rapidly than we predict) may cause our valuation methodology to be inaccurate. 2) As the market share leader in multiple sub-segments of semiconductor equipment, AMAT is uniquely positioned to capitalize on inflections as well as face tough competition from large peers in industry cycles.

ITG Inc

(ITG.O; US$7.02; 1H; 01 Oct 26; 16:00)

Valuation

Our $17 target price reflects a ~10x EV/EBITDA multiple on our ~$252mn FY27E adj. EBITDA estimate. We believe a discount to peer average is warranted given ITG's high customer concentration, elevated net leverage, and limited public track record. That said, we see potential for multiple expansion over time as the company executes its growth strategy and diversifies its revenue base.

Risks

We rate ITG High Risk given the following primary factors: ITG has the highest customer concentration across our broader coverage and recent IPO/limited trading history.

Other risks associated with ITG that could impact the stock performance and its ability to reach our target price include: elevated net leverage could limit near-term incremental M&A; execution risk related to integrating multiple recent acquisitions (7 acquisitions in 2025 out of 22 since 2019); and historical telco capex cyclicalities.

Space Exploration Technologies

(SPCX.O; US$148.07; 1; 01 Oct 26; 16:00)

Valuation

We derive our $200 base-case price target for SPCX using the average of three valuation methods: 1) 2027E growth adj. multiples (EV/Revenue/Growth and EV/EBITDA/Growth) for the “Trillion-Dollar Comps” (a basket of similar trillion-dollar+ market caps); 2) sum-of-the-parts (SOTP) valuing Space, Connectivity, and AI separately using 2027E growth adj. multiples (EV/Revenue/Growth and EV/EBITDA/Growth) for industry-specific comparable companies; and 3) 2030E comparable company multiples (EV/Revenue and EV/EBITDA) for the “Trillion-Dollar Comps” (a basket of similar trillion dollar+ market caps).

Risks

Risks to our thesis, which could impede the shares from reaching our price target, include headwinds to the launch segment which reference the failure to demonstrate rapid reusability on Starship, lack of launch infrastructure, and regulatory headwinds from the FAA and other government organizations. The failure to rapidly gain market share in Starlink mobile, as well as demonstrate the ability to create AI orbital satellites capable of compute, also presents risks to SPCX.

Texas Instruments Inc

(TXN.O; US$281.31; 1; 01 Oct 26; 16:00)

Valuation

Our target price of $345 is based on 26X C28E EPS, roughly in line with its 5-year trading multiple.

Risks

We note the following upside/downside risks to our target price:

End Market: Texas Instruments derives roughly 40% of sales from the industrial end market. Therefore, any major downtick or increase in the industrial end market could result in downside/upside to our estimates and rating for TI.

Competition: Texas Instruments competes with Analog Devices, Microchip, NXP and others in the analog market. Consequently, any loss of market share could result in downside/upside risk to our estimates and rating to TI.

Product Obsolescence: Texas Instruments spends a smaller percentage of its revenue on R&D compared to its competitors. Consequently, if TI fails to develop future products suitable for its customers, it could result in downside risk to our estimates and rating.

Inventory Risk: Texas Instruments sells roughly 35% of its products through distributors. Thus, any major inventory corrections in the distribution channel could result in downside risk to our estimates and rating.

Semiconductor Cycle: TI has broad-based exposure across multiple products and end markets. Therefore, if the overall semiconductor market enters a downturn, it could result in downside risk to our estimates and rating.

Macroeconomic: Texas Instruments' geographic exposure spans multiple geographies including the U.S., Europe, and Asia. As a result, any prolonged macroeconomic downturn could result in downside risk to our estimates and rating.

Guide to Citi Research Fundamental Research Investment Ratings:

Citi Research stock recommendations include an investment rating and an optional risk rating to highlight high risk stocks.

Risk rating takes into account both price volatility and fundamental criteria. Stocks will either have no risk rating or a High risk rating assigned.

Investment Ratings: Citi Research investment ratings are Buy, Neutral and Sell. Our ratings are a function of analyst expectations of expected total return ("ETR") and risk. ETR is the sum of the forecast price appreciation (or depreciation) plus the dividend yield for a stock within the next 12 months. The target price is based on a 12 month time horizon. The Investment rating definitions are: Buy (1) ETR of 15% or more or 25% or more for High risk stocks; and Sell (3) for negative ETR. Any covered stock not assigned a Buy or a Sell is a Neutral (2). For stocks rated Neutral (2), if an analyst believes that there are insufficient valuation drivers and/or investment catalysts to derive a positive or negative investment view, they may elect with the approval of Citi Research management not to assign a target price and, thus, not derive an ETR. Citi Research may suspend its rating and target price and assign "Rating Suspended" status for regulatory and/or internal policy reasons. Citi Research may also suspend its rating and target price and assign "Under Review" status for other exceptional circumstances (e.g. lack of information critical to the analyst's thesis, trading suspension) affecting the company and/or trading in the company's securities. In both such situations, the rating and target price will show as "—" and "—" respectively in the rating history price chart. Prior to 11 April 2022 Citi Research assigned "Under Review" status to both situations and prior to 11 Nov 2020 only in exceptional circumstances. As soon as practically possible, the analyst will publish a note re-establishing a rating and investment thesis. Investment ratings are determined by the ranges described above at the time of initiation of coverage, a change in investment and/or risk rating, or a change in target price (subject to limited management discretion). At times, the expected total returns may fall outside of these ranges because of market price movements and/or other short-term volatility or trading patterns. Such interim deviations will be permitted but will become subject to review by Research Management. Your decision to buy or sell a security should be based upon your personal investment objectives and should be made only after evaluating the stock's expected performance and risk.

Catalyst Watch/Short Term Views ("STV") Ratings Disclosure:

Catalyst Watch and STV Upside/Downside calls: Citi Research may also include a Catalyst Watch or STV Upside or Downside call to indicate the analyst expects the share price to rise (fall) in absolute terms over a specified period of 30 or 90 days in reaction to one or more specific near-term catalysts or events impacting the company or the market. A Catalyst Watch will be published when Analyst confidence is high that an impact to share price will occur; it will be a STV when confidence level is moderate. A Catalyst Watch or STV Upside/Downside call will automatically expire at the end of the specified 30/90 day period. The Catalyst Watch will also be automatically removed if share price performance (calculated at market close) exceeds 15% against the direction of the call (unless over-ridden by the analyst). The analyst may also remove a Catalyst Watch or STV call prior to the end of the specified period in a published research note. A Catalyst Watch/STV Upside or Downside call may be different from and does not affect a stock's fundamental equity rating, which reflects a longer-term total absolute return expectation. For purposes of FINRA ratings-distribution-disclosure rules, a Catalyst Watch/STV Upside call corresponds to a buy recommendation and a Catalyst Watch/STV Downside call corresponds to a sell recommendation. Any stock not assigned to a Catalyst Watch Upside, Catalyst Watch Downside, STV Upside, or STV Downside call is considered Catalyst Watch/STV No View. For purposes of FINRA ratings distribution-disclosure rules, we correspond Catalyst Watch/STV No View to Hold in our ratings distribution table for our Catalyst Watch/STV Upside/Downside rating system. However, we reiterate that we do not consider No View to be a recommendation. For all Catalyst Watch/STV Upside/Downside calls, risk exists that the catalyst(s) and associated share-price movement will not materialize as expected.

Citi Research broadly and simultaneously disseminates its research content to the Firm's institutional and retail clients via the Firm's proprietary electronic distribution platforms (e.g., Citi Velocity and various Global Wealth platforms). As a convenience, certain, but not all, research content may be distributed through third party aggregators. Clients may receive published research reports by email, on a discretionary basis, and only after such research content has been broadly disseminated. Certain research is made available only to institutional investors to satisfy regulatory requirements. The level and types of services provided by Citi Research analysts to clients may vary depending on various factors such as the client's individual preferences as to the frequency and manner of receiving communications from analysts, the client's risk profile and investment focus and perspective (e.g. market-wide, sector specific, long term, short-term etc.), the size and scope of the overall client relationship with the Firm and legal and regulatory constraints.

Pursuant to Comissão de Valores Mobiliários Resolução 20 and ASIC Regulatory Guide 264, Citi is required to disclose whether a Citi related company or business has a commercial relationship with the subject company. Considering that Citi operates multiple businesses in more than 100 countries around the world, it is likely that Citi has a commercial relationship with the subject company.

The Product is for informational purposes only and is not intended as an offer or solicitation for the purchase or sale of a security. Any decision to purchase securities mentioned in the Product must take into account existing public information on such security or any registered prospectus. Although information has been obtained from and is based upon sources that the Firm believes to be reliable, we do not guarantee its accuracy and it may be incomplete and condensed. Note, however, that the Firm has taken all reasonable steps to determine the accuracy and completeness of the disclosures made in the Important Disclosures section of the Product. The Firm's research department has received assistance from the subject company(ies) referred to in this Product including, but not limited to, discussions with management of the subject company(ies). Firm policy prohibits research analysts from sending draft research to subject companies. However, it should be presumed that the author of the Product has had discussions with the subject company to ensure factual accuracy prior to publication. Statements and views concerning ESG (environmental, social, governance) factors are typically based upon public statements made by the affected company or other public news, which the author may not have independently verified. ESG factors are one consideration that investors may choose to examine when making investment decisions. All opinions, projections and estimates constitute the judgment of the author as of the date of the Product and these, plus any other information contained in the Product, are subject to change without notice. Prices and availability of financial instruments also are subject to change without notice. Notwithstanding other departments within the Firm advising the companies discussed in this Product, information obtained in such role is not used in the preparation of the Product. Although Citi Research does not set a predetermined frequency for publication, if the Product is a fundamental equity or credit research report, it is the intention of Citi Research to provide research coverage of the covered issuers, including in response to news affecting the issuer. For non-fundamental research reports, Citi Research may not provide regular updates to the views, recommendations and facts included in the reports. Notwithstanding that Citi Research maintains coverage on, makes recommendations concerning or discusses issuers, Citi Research may be periodically restricted from referencing certain issuers due to legal or policy reasons. Where a component of a published trade idea is subject to a restriction, the trade idea will be removed from any list of open trade ideas included in the Product. Upon the lifting of the restriction, the trade idea will either be re-instated in the open trade ideas list if the analyst continues to support it or it will be officially closed. Citi Research may provide different research products and services to different classes of customers (for example, based upon long-term or short-term investment horizons) that may lead to differing conclusions or recommendations that could impact the price of a security contrary to the recommendations in the alternative research product, provided that each is consistent with the rating system for each respective product.

Investing in non-U.S. securities, including ADRs, may entail certain risks. The securities of non-U.S. issuers may not be registered with, nor be subject to the reporting requirements of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. There may be limited information available on foreign securities. Foreign companies are generally not subject to uniform audit and reporting standards, practices and requirements comparable to those in the U.S. Securities of some foreign companies may be less liquid and their prices more volatile than securities of comparable U.S. companies. In addition, exchange rate movements may have an adverse effect on the value of an investment in a foreign stock and its corresponding dividend payment for U.S. investors. Net dividends to ADR investors are estimated, using withholding tax rates conventions, deemed accurate, but investors are urged to consult their tax advisor for exact dividend computations. Investors who have received the Product from the Firm may be prohibited in certain states or other jurisdictions from purchasing securities mentioned in the Product from the Firm.
