F2Q Preview: Expect Strong Core Execution, Increased AI Momentum

MDB

12m Price Target: $453.00Price: $434.62Upside: 4.2%

MongoDB is expected to report results on 9/1 AMC. We see a plausible upside case for 29%+ Atlas growth in F2Q (vs. guidance of +26%), consistent with historical beats (~2.5%), along with a raise to F2H expectations (we see F3Q mid-20's-plus vs. Street +22%) as the company benefits from high-growth enterprise workloads and an expanding cohort of scaling AI-native customers and model labs. The stock is +34% in the last month, outpacing the IGV by ~24 pp., and now trades at ~9x FY28 EV/S, though still at a discount to SNOW (15x) and DDOG (16x). We see an elevated bar into the print, with investors increasingly focused on evidence of Atlas reacceleration. Growth nearing 30% would likely be viewed favorably, though we suspect the market will remain sensitive to signs that acceleration is progressing more gradually than expected, similar to the dynamic following F1Q results. Whether Atlas accelerates this quarter or the debate remains active, we continue to see a path for Atlas to compound at rates solidly above the Street (low-20's) over the next 2-3 years as AI-driven demand broadens from early adopters into MongoDB's much larger enterprise customer base. We are already seeing early signs of this in developer activity, with npm download growth accelerating to 80%+ (vs. ~55% in F1Q27), which, alongside several quarters of stronger Atlas customer additions, leaves us constructive on consumption trends. We continue to view MongoDB as a later-cycle beneficiary of the AI spending cycle versus platform peers and expect F2Q results to demonstrate both the strength of the core business and a growing contribution from AI-related workloads. Remain Buy.

We track a set of developer activity metrics that continue to point to strengthening top-of-funnel demand. We monitor npm download volumes for MongoDB's core driver package, essentially how often developers pull the connector needed to build on MongoDB, as a proxy for project creation and application development activity. Downloads accelerated to 80%+ YoY growth in F2Q27 (vs. ~55% in F1Q27) following several quarters of

Acceleration in F2Q27 points to a pickup in new project activity that can translate to Atlas consumption over time

Our Thesis

We see MongoDB as one of the few independent, general-purpose data platforms that can compound meaningfully as enterprises modernize applications and begin to embed AI at scale. The core of the story is simple: MongoDB’s flexible document model, strong developer affinity, and cloud-delivered Atlas service have shifted it from a niche NoSQL product to an application data layer that increasingly underpins core transactions, search, event streams and AI context. Atlas now represents the clear majority of Revenue (75%) and continues to grow materially faster than the company overall (+29% in F1Q27), reflecting both ongoing app modernization and broader multi-cloud workload expansion. While competition from relational databases (including Postgres), Hyperscaler services, and newer AI-focused tools should not to be dismissed, we think MongoDB is well-positioned to remain a default choice for modern, fast-changing workloads. Its integrated approach to search, streaming and vector capabilities – bolstered by the recent Voyage AI acquisition – reduces architectural complexity for customers looking to operationalize AI. Taken together, we believe MongoDB can sustain durable mid-20’s-plus Atlas growth with improving profitability, and that its role as a foundational data platform should strengthen as enterprises standardize on fewer, more capable data layers for traditional and AI-enabled applications.

MDB Through the Lens of the GS Framework for Investing in Software

MongoDB screens well across a variety of areas in our GS Framework for Investing in Software. MongoDB has exposure to a large and expanding market at the intersection of modern application development, cloud data platforms and early AI adoption. Secular themes are firmly in its favor: enterprises are retiring rigid, legacy databases in favor of cloud-native architectures, consolidating fragmented data stacks and building applications that blend transactions, search, streaming and AI – all areas where MongoDB’s document model and Atlas platform are directly leveraged. We see attractive unit economics in a usage-based model where high-value workloads naturally grow over time, supported by a GTM motion that increasingly targets strategic, higher-quality deployments while still benefiting from a broad self-serve funnel. Critically, MongoDB combines best-of-breed developer experience with platform breadth and a defensible competitive moat built on its ecosystem, multi-cloud positioning and integrated capabilities (search, vector, streams) that make it difficult and costly for customers to unwind once MongoDB becomes the application's data layer of record.

Exhibit 2: Mapping MongoDB to the GS Framework for Investing in Software

OUR VIEW ON MONGODB
8 KEY FACTORS	TANGIBLE	INTANGIBLE
TAM	Large and expanding Database Management Systems TAM of $100B+, growing at a 16% CAGR through C29 (Gartner)	Databases are a cornerstone of enterprise software, representing one of the largest and most strategic addressable markets
SECULAR THEMES	New application creation and modernization (1B+ new apps by C28, IDC); Cloud migration; AI adoption; and Multi-Cloud	With strong developer mindshare, MongoDB remains well positioned to capitalize on DX, cloud migrations, and AI adoption
ENTRY/EXIT POINTS	Stock trades at 8.8x EV/Sales (FY28) and 43x EV/FCF (FY28)	We view the long-term risk / reward as favorable at current levels
LT FRAMEWORK RETURN	Compounded Returns: Bear: -15%, Base: 10%, Bull: 23%	Potential for sustained mid-20's-plus Atlas Growth with improving profitability (100-200+ bps of OpM expansion)
UNIT ECONOMICS	CAC of ~2.0x versus average of 2.0-3.0x across software coverage; High incremental leverage from customer expansion	Expansion within existing accounts; Leverage from partner ecosystem; Growing upmarket motion
PLATFORM/ BEST OF BREED	Multi-cloud flexibility; Continued advancements like Vector Search, Voyage AI integration, and Relational Migrator in Atlas	Widening ease-of-use and feature gap to improve TCO in face of competition from relational incumbents and specialist databases
COMPETITIVE MOAT	Strong developer mindshare with strong product alignment to everyday developer needs; Multi-cloud neutrality	While it can take time to ramp consumption, NER remains 120%+ as customers add workloads and expand usage
ESG	Potential risks from security breaches and compliance/data residency concerns	The company continues to add advanced security features, including HIPAA compliance and availability across major CSPs

Valuation and Key Risks

We reiterate our Buy rating and raise our Price Target to $453 (from $395 prior) as we mark-to-market to better align with high-growth peers ahead of F2Q27 earnings. Our valuation methodology is based on a two-pronged valuation framework with 50% weight to a target EV/Sales multiple and 50% weight to a target EV/FCF multiple. Our EV/FCF valuation is based on 52x(vs. 43x prior) our Q5-Q8 FCF estimate and EV/S based on 10.5x (vs. 9.25x previously) our Q5-Q8 Revenue estimate.

Key downside risks: 1) Increased competitive pressure from relational database incumbents, particularly from Hyperscalers like Oracle, Microsoft, AWS, and GCP, 2) Broader standardization around Postgres impacts MongoDB's win rates and expansion opportunities, 3) Slowing pace in cloud migration, multi-cloud adoption, digital transformation, and application modernization, 4) AI cycle proves to be a less meaningful tailwind than initially contemplated, 5) Margin degradation due to required reinvestment or unanticipated headwinds from the EA business, 6) Adverse changes in the IT spending environment.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at <https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html>.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are removed pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs' involvement in a transaction, and in certain other circumstances. Early-Stage Biotech (ES). An investment rating and a target price are not assigned pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when this company has neither a drug, treatment or medical device that has passed a Phase II clinical trial nor a license to distribute a post-Phase II drug, treatment or medical device. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company.
