Revenue has accelerated every quarter for 3 years and could accelerate again in 3Q. The bear case on AI-native competition is overstated (for now) and the rise of open-weight/open standards could be a tailwind that propels shares to our $205 PT.

Key Takeaways

- Revenue growth accelerated for the 12th quarter in a row to +93% YoY from +85% in Q1
- US commercial, which slowed slightly in Q1, accelerated to +149% down from +135% in Q1 while US government accelerated to +90% from +84% last quarter
- FY26 revenue growth outlook was raised significantly to +82% from +71% prior and assumes at least 134% growth in U.S. commercial, up from 120%+ prior
- We don't think AI-native competition is impacting growth today and see PLTR benefiting from the move to opensource/open-weight models
- Reiterate EW as we look to gain confidence on runway with existing customers but maintain our $205 PT based on 41x CY30 FCF/share of $7.07 and discounting back

2Q Reignites the Bull Thesis. With 2Q results Palantir has now accelerated revenue growth every single quarter for 3 years running – a remarkable achievement especially given that operating margin has expanded from 25% to 60% over the interim period. Unlike 1Q26, both revenue and bookings metrics confirmed that demand remains at extraordinary levels. Revenue accelerated to +93% from +85% in 1Q, US commercial revenue accelerated to +149% from +135% and U.S. government revenue accelerated to +90% from +84%. Meanwhile, U.S. Commercial TCV bookings growth accelerated to +153% from +45% in 1Q and U.S. remaining deal value saw growth improve to +124% from +112%. The KPIs that saw a slowdown were customer-related metrics including total customer count (+24% vs. +31% in 1Q) and U.S. commercial customer count (+35% from +42%). As has been the case for the past 3 years, stronger growth led to margin outperformance with 2Q operating margin coming in at ~60% – up 1300+ bps YoY.

2026 Revenue Outlook Now Targets 80%+ Growth With Further Room for

Upside. Looking to FY26, the company raised its 2026 revenue growth outlook to +82% from +71% prior based on revenue of $8,150-$8,158 million – a +7% raise at the midpoint. The midpoint of the FY26 outlook calls for an operating margin of 60% (vs 58% prior). Underpinning the outlook for total revenue is the expectation for U.S. commercial to grow at least +134% vs. 120%+ prior to reach $3,424 million. Total revenue for 3Q is expected to land between $2,160-$2,164 million implying YoY growth of +83%. Assuming a 6% beat – slightly below the 4-quarter average and resulting in QoQ revenue growth in line with 3Q25, total revenue growth could accelerate once more in 3Q (to +94% YoY). Should this magnitude of beat come to pass and using the high end of FY26 revenue guidance ($8,158 million), implied Q4 revenue assumes flat QoQ growth compared to average Q4 seasonality of +14% QoQ over the last 3 years.

Bear Case on AI-native Competition Likely Overstated. Our recent conversations with customers spending in excess of $5 million annually on Palantir indicated that none are considering moving AI apps/agents off of Foundry/AIP to AI-native alternatives. Nor did these customers indicate an intention to deploy net-new use cases originally intended for Palantir to AI-native alternatives. This reflects the fact that Palantir has solved the critical context/semantic layer problem that is key to unlocking value for mission-critical business processes. Furthermore, should the shift to more model choice including open-weight and opensource models take hold in the enterprise, we see Palantir as a beneficiary given its model routing, private eval, observability, cost-enforcement and long-term memory capabilities.

Why Not OW? While we are inclined to be structurally positive Palantir, our recent conversations with the $5+ million spending customers referenced above did indicate some hesitation on Palantir's pricing and overall cost. In particular, multiple customers indicated that they had to be selective about which apps/use cases should be deployed on Foundry/AIP versus an alternative (usually a data platform like Databricks or Snowflake). This point is why we have not yet gotten to an OW rating – given that the company has a relatively small customer base (and customer count growth is slowing), we need to be able to underwrite a long runway of growth from existing customers and gripes about pricing/cost represent a hurdle we have to overcome. The bull case is that Palantir's top 20 customers spend an average of $124 million in trailing 12-month revenue compared to an average of ~$3.5 million per commercial customer – suggesting the potential for a significant expansion opportunity ahead.

Raising Our Estimates and Maintaining Our $205 PT. With strong outperformance and momentum poised to continue, we raise our 2026 revenue growth forecast and maintain our 2027/2028 growth forecasts to +82%/+45%/+40% from +71%/+45%/+40% previously. Operating 2026/2027/2028 operating margin estimates move to 60%/61%/62% from 58%/60%/62% previously. As a result, our 2027/2028 FCF estimates rise to $7.1/$10.1 billion from $6.7/$9.6 billion. We maintain our $205 price target applying a 41x multiple (vs 44x prior) on our 2030 FCF/share estimate of $7.07 and discount back to 2027 using a WACC of 13%.

41x EV/CY30 FCF/sh of $7.07B (1.31x EV/FCF/G, generally inline with Large Cap Software on CY27).

Revenue grows at a 43% 5yr CAGR through CY30 to reach $25.3B, while operating margin reaches 66% in CY30 from 50% in CY25, yielding FCF of $17.6B (65% margin) or $7.07/share. We apply a 41x FCF multiple to our FCF/sh estimate, discount it back at an 13% WACC and add back $2.8 net cash per share to arrive at our $205 PT.

EQUAL-WEIGHT THESIS

Palantir's technical capabilities, coupled with a forward deployed engineer model, allow customers to realize early success on their GenAI initiatives. Yet part of what has made Palantir an attractive partner is the spread in terms of the relative capabilities/skillset that Palantir brings to bear with respect to technology and human capital compared to the capabilities of its end customers, which in our view is near its peak in this stage of the cycle. We give Palantir a lot of credit for the inflection and expense discipline, which we expect to continue, reflected in our above-consensus estimates and see potential for the valuation premium to sustain in the absence of a negative catalyst.

RISKS TO PT/RATING

RISKS TO UPSIDE

- Government spending picks back up;
- AIP product cycle drives growth in the Commercial business;
- Palantir becomes the 'de facto' data solution for the government.

RISKS TO DOWNSIDE

- Reliance on large deals with few customers drives uneven financial performance;
- Margin expansion slows, further stoking the investor 'software or consulting?' debate.

STOCK RATINGS

Morgan Stanley uses a relative rating system using terms such as Overweight, Equal-weight, Not-Rated or Underweight (see definitions below). Morgan Stanley does not assign ratings of Buy, Hold or Sell to the stocks we cover. Overweight, Equal-weight, Not-Rated and Underweight are not the equivalent of buy, hold and sell. Investors should carefully read the definitions of all ratings used in Morgan Stanley Research. In addition, since Morgan Stanley Research contains more complete information concerning the analyst's views, investors should carefully read Morgan Stanley Research, in its entirety, and not infer the contents from the rating alone. In any case, ratings (or research) should not be used or relied upon as investment advice. An investor's decision to buy or sell a stock should depend on individual circumstances (such as the investor's existing holdings) and other considerations.

Global Stock Ratings Distribution

(as of July 31, 2026)

The Stock Ratings described below apply to Morgan Stanley's Fundamental Equity Research and do not apply to Debt Research produced by the Firm.

For disclosure purposes only (in accordance with FINRA requirements), we include the category headings of Buy, Hold, and Sell alongside our ratings of Overweight, Equal-weight, Not-Rated and Underweight. Morgan Stanley does not assign ratings of Buy, Hold or Sell to the stocks we cover. Overweight, Equal-weight, Not-Rated and Underweight are not the equivalent of buy, hold, and sell but represent recommended relative weightings (see definitions below). To satisfy regulatory requirements, we correspond Overweight, our most positive stock rating, with a buy recommendation; we correspond Equal-weight and Not-Rated to hold and Underweight to sell recommendations, respectively.

Stock Rating Category	Coverage Universe		Investment Banking Clients (IBC)			Other Material Investment Services Clients (MISC)
	Count	% of Total	Count	% of Total IBC	% of Rating Category	Count	% of Total Other MISC

Morgan Stanley recommends that investors independently evaluate particular investments and strategies, and encourages investors to seek the advice of a financial adviser. The appropriateness of an investment or strategy will depend on an investor's circumstances and objectives. The securities, instruments, or strategies discussed in Morgan Stanley Research may not be suitable for all investors, and certain investors may not be eligible to purchase or participate in some or all of them. Morgan Stanley Research is not an offer to buy or sell or the solicitation of an offer to buy or sell any security/instrument or to participate in any particular trading strategy. The value of and income from your investments may vary because of changes in interest rates, foreign exchange rates, default rates, prepayment rates, securities/instruments prices, market indexes, operational or financial conditions of companies or other factors. There may be time limitations on the exercise of options or other rights in securities/instruments transactions. Past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. Estimates of future performance are based on assumptions that may not be realized. If provided, and unless otherwise stated, the closing price on the cover page is that of the primary exchange for the subject company's securities/instruments.

The fixed income research analysts, strategists or economists principally responsible for the preparation of Morgan Stanley Research have received compensation based upon various factors, including quality, accuracy and value of research, firm profitability or revenues (which include fixed income trading and capital markets profitability or revenues), client feedback and competitive factors. Fixed Income Research analysts', strategists' or economists' compensation is not linked to investment banking or capital markets transactions performed by Morgan Stanley or the profitability or revenues of particular trading desks.

The "Important Regulatory Disclosures on Subject Companies" section in Morgan Stanley Research lists all companies mentioned where Morgan Stanley owns 1% or more of a class of common equity securities of the companies. For all other companies mentioned in Morgan Stanley Research, Morgan Stanley may have an investment of less than 1% in securities/instruments or derivatives of securities/instruments of companies and may trade them in ways different from those discussed in Morgan Stanley Research. Employees of Morgan Stanley not involved in the preparation of Morgan Stanley Research may have investments in securities/instruments or derivatives of securities/instruments of companies mentioned and may trade them in ways different from those discussed in Morgan Stanley Research. Derivatives may be issued by Morgan Stanley or associated persons.

With the exception of information regarding Morgan Stanley, Morgan Stanley Research is based on public information. Morgan Stanley makes every effort to use reliable, comprehensive information, but we make no representation that it is accurate or complete. We have no obligation to tell you when opinions or information in Morgan Stanley Research change apart from when we intend to discontinue equity research coverage of a subject company. Facts and views presented in Morgan Stanley Research have not been reviewed by, and may not reflect information known to, professionals in other Morgan Stanley business areas, including investment banking personnel.

Morgan Stanley Research personnel may participate in company events such as site visits and are generally prohibited from accepting payment by the company of associated expenses unless pre-approved by authorized members of Research management.

Morgan Stanley may make investment decisions that are inconsistent with the recommendations or views in this report.
