

Advanced Micro Devices Inc. (AMD): Strong 2027 commentary falls short of most bullish expectations; we expect the company to deliver on Key stock takeaways: We expect the stock to trade lower following a solid quarter with guidance above the Street, set against very high expectations heading into the quarter. We believe investors were constructively positioned heading into the report given optimism around market strength and share gains in server CPUs, as well as expectations for a strong MI-4XX ramp into 2027. Despite management's strong commentary on its Datacenter business for 2027 (well over 100% growth in total, with server CPU growth over 70%), we believe the most bullish expectations were likely ahead of this level on revenue and gross margin. However, we expect AMD to ultimately deliver Datacenter revenue consistent with our estimate (over $40bn in Datacenter GPU in 2027) as the company ramps its MI-4XX product beginning in 3Q, with very strong growth in the server CPU market (driven by Agentic AI and the enterprise datacenter refresh). We reiterate our Buy rating on AMD, as we see the company well positioned to capture an increasing share of overall compute market, driven by an already strong presence in the CPU market and a broadening aperture of key customers in the AI accelerator market.

Quarterly results were slightly above the Street: AMD reported revenue of $11.5 bn, slightly above GS and the Street at $11.3 bn. Gross margin of 56.2% was in line with GS at 56.3% and just above the Street at 56.0%. Operating margin of 26.8% was in line with GS at 26.8% and the Street at 26.7%. Reported non-GAAP operating EPS of $1.66 was just above GS and the Street at $1.61. Datacenter revenue of $6.72 bn was in line with GS at $6.7 bn and the Street at $6.6 bn. Gaming revenue of $779 mn was above GS at $748 mn but below the Street at $791 mn. Embedded revenue of $977 mn was in line with GS at $960 mn and the Street at $971 mn.

- Datacenter segment expectations and GPU ramp: AMD continues to expect its partners to ramp their initial MI4XX shipments in 2H26 and early 2027. The server CPU business reached a record in the quarter, and management continues to see growth in this segment to support customer AI deployments. AMD expects to drive CY27 Datacenter revenue growth of well over 100% YoY. In the medium term, management expects MI-4XX revenue to step up in Q3, with a larger step-up in 4Q and a further step-up in 1Q27.
- Server CPU strength: AMD noted strong demand for its server CPUs, and management expects server CPU revenue to grow QoQ in a seasonally down March quarter. Consistent with its Advancing AI event in July, AMD expects the server CPU TAM to grow at a ~50% CAGR through 2030. Management expects Goldman Sachs does and seeks to do business with companies covered in its research reports. As a result, investors should be aware that the firm may have a conflict of interest that could affect the objectivity of this report. Investors should consider this report as only a single factor in making their investment decision. For Reg AC certification and other important disclosures, see the Disclosure Appendix, or go to www.gs.com/research/hedge.html. Analysts employed by non-US affiliates are not registered/qualified as research analysts with FINRA in the U.S.

its server CPU business to grow over 80% in 2026, and over 70% in 2027 from this higher base. We view this trend as a positive offset to any potential gross margin headwinds associated with ramping new GPU products and racks in 2H26.

- Gross margin expectations: AMD noted a number of headwinds and tailwinds which it expects to contribute to its gross margin performance in 2027. Management sees tailwinds to gross margin stemming from strong datacenter CPU growth (expected to be over 70% in 2027) as well its embedded business (currently growing double digits), with headwinds from its Datacenter GPU ramp where gross margins are slightly below corporate average (and are expected to increase as Helios rack yields increase over time).

3Q guidance is above the Street. AMD guided 3Q revenue and gross margins above the Street. Revenue was guided to $13.0 bn at the midpoint, which is above GS at $12.3 bn and the Street at $12.6 bn. By segment in 3Q, AMD expects Datacenter revenue to increase significantly QoQ, Embedded revenue to grow in the double digits QoQ, Client to grow modestly QoQ, and Gaming to decline QoQ. Non-GAAP gross margin was guided to 56%, which is just below GS at 56.7% and in line with the Street at 55.7%. OpEx was guided to $3.65 bn (~4% above the Street), OI&E was guided to $55 mn and the non-GAAP tax rate was guided to 13%. As a result, implied non-GAAP EPS (ex SBC) of $1.93 was above the Street at $1.85 and GS at $1.83.

Estimate changes. We raise our CY26-28 EPS estimates by an average of 13% to mainly reflect higher revenue assumptions relative to our previous forecasts (see detailed estimates below – Exhibit 3).

Price target and risks: We are Buy rated on AMD. Our 12-month target price of $640 is based on a 32X P/E multiple applied to our normalized EPS estimate of $20.00. Key downside risks include: (1) slower-than-expected adoption of agentic AI; (2) slower-than-anticipated deployment of AMD GPUs related to the Meta deal; (3) share erosion of x86 architecture in enterprise AI and (4) lack of operating leverage.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock’s total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region’s Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts’ investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at <https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html>.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are removed pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs’ involvement in a transaction, and in certain other circumstances. Early-Stage Biotech (ES). An investment rating and a target price are not assigned pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when this company has neither a drug, treatment or medical device that has passed a Phase II clinical trial nor a license to distribute a post-Phase II drug, treatment or medical device. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price.
