Weichai Power's global AIDC power generation peers — Cummins (CMI), Caterpillar (CAT), INNIO (INIO, covered by our US analyst Joe Ritchie), Wartsila (WRT1V.HE, covered by our Europe analyst Daniela Costa), Generac (GNRC), and Bloom Energy (BE) have reported 2Q26 results over the past month. Below we summarize the key takeaways from their earnings releases and investor calls.

- Strong 2Q26 results and sustained demand strength: All companies delivered robust growth in their AIDC power businesses, with revenues increasing at double- to triple-digit rates. Management teams consistently described demand as exceptionally strong, with no signs of moderation.
- Rising behind-the-meter demand: Nearly all companies highlighted growing demand of onsite prime power solutions, as hyperscalers seek to bypass grid interconnection bottlenecks and accelerate data center deployment. INNIO, Cummins, Wartsila and Bloom Energy all secured large-scale GW-level prime power projects during the quarter.
- Severe capacity constraints & extended lead times: CAT, CMI and INNIO all indicated that capacity remains the primary bottleneck rather than demand. Order books and slot reservations are extending into 2028-2031. CAT highlighted prolonged lead-times across the board. Short lead times have become a critical differentiator for SOFC manufacturers like Bloom Energy to gain orders.
- Pricing remains favorable: Management broadly highlighted resilient pricing conditions, supported by persistent supply-demand imbalances and extended lead times. CAT has applied contractual pricing escalators on long-duration orders, INNIO reported positive margin trends on recent bookings, while Source: Company data, Goldman Sachs Research estimates.

Generac highlighted elevated market pricing. Bloom indicated that customers are increasingly willing to pay a premium for faster deployment.

- Accelerating capacity expansion across the value chain: CAT is restarting its discontinued engine platform to accelerate the capacity roll-out. INNIO remains on track to nearly triple capacity by 2030. Wartsila aims to further expand capacity by 30% and Generac plans to triple its data center-related capacity over the next 12 months from its original year-end 2026 target of $1.25 billion.

The consistent messages from global industry leaders point to a persisted supply shortage in AIDC power generation equipment, with backlogs extending several years into the future and favorable pricing environment. We believe this provides a positive read-across for Weichai Power, which benefits from a much shorter capacity expansion cycle and a comprehensive product portfolio spanning diesel large engines for back-up power and gas reciprocating engines and SOFC for primary power. Reiterate Buy.

Engine peers - CAT/CMI/INNIO/Wartsila

 - Management reported no slowdown in AI/data center demand, with prime power demand trending higher. Large-engine and turbine demand is also supported by oil & gas, gas compression, mining, and marine applications.
 - On redundancy, management has not observed customers moving toward zero-backup configurations. Diesel standby demand continues to expand, and some behind-the-meter gas installations are integrating gas reciprocating engines for redundancy based on project specifications.
- Orders and lead time:
 - Management noted that customers are asking for more units if Caterpillar can supply them, and CAT is already taking orders into 2029/2030.
 - Management mentioned across-the-board lead-time expansion: Lead times for gas prime power engines now extend into late 2028 and 2029, turbines are somewhat longer, and diesel standby gensets are also being ordered well into 2028. Some customers are considering smaller products where availability is better.

- Pricing: Management expects pricing to remain broadly consistent with past practice, with escalators protecting longer-out orders.
- Capacity updates: Management mentioned CAT is restarting production of its 10-MW medium-speed gas reciprocating engine platform (discontinued in 2022). This will bring an additional 1.5GW of capacity online, with shipments starting in 4Q26.

Cummins (CMI)

2Q26 result highlights

- Cummins delivered record 2Q sales (+9% yoy) with growth mainly driven by power generation demand, particularly data centers. Power system segment sales were up +19% yoy in 2Q26 with EBITDA up +28% yoy. By product line, power generation sales were up +27% yoy.
- Management raised FY26 revenue guidance to +10%-13% (vs. prior forecasts of 8%-11%). Mgmt kept global power gen revenue guidance unchanged at +15% to +25% constrained by capacity.

Key call takeaways on AIDC power

- Industry demand:
 - Management characterized data center backup power demand as exceptionally strong and still growing, with no signs of pause or slowdown.
 - By region, demand strength is broad-based across North America, China and Southeast Asia. North American power generation revenue rose 19% yoy, while China equipment sales surged 88% yoy.
- Orders/Lead time:
 - Management described the backlog as very strong, with now booking orders further into 2H28
 - Management said Cummins remains capacity constrained in large generator sets, any additional output Cummins can squeeze out of the supply chain can likely be sold this year and into next year.
- Onsite power development: Management mentioned that demand is shifting beyond standby diesel backup into prime power opportunities, though diesel standby will remain the dominant revenue driver this decade. Cummins highlighted its project with Circe Energy in Texas to supply natural gas gensets for a BTM prime power solution.
- Capacity updates:
 - Cummins reiterated its Analyst Day plan to add 20GW of incremental capacity across the supply chain. Regarding the timeline, some capacity will come online in 2027, but a more meaningful increase is expected in 2028, with a continued ramp through 2030.

- ❑ Management mentioned that capacity expansion is flexible across engine size, generator-set size, industrial applications, diesel standby, and natural gas prime power, and highlighted a new 130L natural gas platform for prime power.

INNIO (INIO)

Covered by our US analyst Joe Ritchie, see the 2Q26 First Take note here, earnings review note here and NDR takeaway note here

2Q26 result highlights

- INNIO reported revenue of $938 million (+42% yoy). Equipment segment revenue rose 61% yoy to $569 million, with data center revenue nearly doubling yoy to $232 million. By region, the US was the key growth driver, with sales more than doubling yoy. Europe sales saw solid growth of +20% yoy.
- For the full year 2026, management has initiated guidance with revenue expected between $3.8 billion and $3.9 billion (~46% growth at the midpoint versus 2025).

Key call takeaways on AIDC power

- Industry demand: Management characterized industry demand as exceptionally strong and diversified, with the behind-the-meter data center market the primary growth engine.
- Order, Backlog and Lead Time:
 - ❑ Equipment order intake reached a record $2.3 billion (+316% yoy), pushing equipment backlog to $6.6 billion (+279% yoy).
 - ❑ Total committed business (backlog + slot reservations) exceeds 15GW. Approximately 64% of this is for BTM data center solutions, with 94% of those being for prime power. Management highlighted a 1.1GW order for a mega-scale data center customer that was secured this quarter, involving more than 200 Jenbacher J624 engines (blended pricing of ~$750/kW).
 - ❑ Regarding the lead time, management mentioned slot reservations are sold out through 2027, with availability extending into 2028-2031.
- Pricing: Management mentioned pricing trends remain strong due to high demand and limited delivery capacity. Recent order bookings show a positive margin trend compared to the historical average.
- Capacity Updates: Capacity expansion is on track to grow from 3.5GW in 2025 to approximately 10GW by 2030. Management mentioned 1GW of data center capacity can support tens of billions in revenue.

Wartsila (WRT1V.HE)

Covered by our Europe analyst Daniela Costa, see the 2Q26 First Take note here

2Q26 result highlights

- Energy segment saw sales growth of +10% yoy in 2Q26 with equipment sales up

+15% yoy.

Key call takeaways on AIDC power

- Industry demand: Management highlighted that the rapid speed of AI and cloud infrastructure build-outs is creating unprecedented demand for off-grid data centers where reliable, on-site primary power is essential.
- Orders/Lead time:
 - Order intake in the energy segment saw notable growth of +82% yoy in 2Q26, with equipment orders more than doubling yoy, which management attributed to strong datacenter customer demand.
 - Management highlighted that Wartsila secured 1.2GW of firm data center-related orders across two major projects in 2Q26.
 - Lead times are extending significantly due to high demand, with delivery slots essentially sold out through 2028. Management emphasized that early planning and dialogue are essential for customers.
- Capacity updates: To address surging demand, Wartsila approved an additional EUR90 million investment in 2Q26 to expand technical production capacity by 30%. Combined with the 35% expansion announced in February 2026, total capacity will increase by 65% compared to 2025 levels, with phased commissioning between 2028 and 2029.

Genset partner - Generac

2Q26 financials highlights

- C&I segment sales were up +29% yoy to $556 million, driven by over $100 million in data center shipments.
- The company raised FY26 data center revenue guidance to ~$450 million (from ~$300 million) and C&I growth to the low-30s% range.

Key call takeaways on AIDC power

- Industry demand: Management described data center backup power demand as robust across both hyperscale and non-hyperscale customers, supported by AI infrastructure build-out, low grid power quality, and higher power prices.
- Order, Backlog, Lead Time:
 - Data center backlog reached $1.6bn, with approximately $1bn of new orders secured over the last 90 days. Management highlighted the second hyperscale supply agreement was signed in late June, and mentioned it could be as large as or larger than the first agreement and cover 2027 and 2028 deliveries.
 - Management indicated that current lead times remain around 40-45 weeks, materially below industry levels (70-80 weeks).

- Pricing: Management mentioned that the market price per kW is elevated due to supply-demand imbalances, though Generac is using shorter lead times to gain market share rather than charging above-market premiums.
- Capacity Updates: Management shared the new target of tripling its large megawatt generators capacity over the next 12 months from the original year-end 2026 target of $1.25 billion. To support this rapid scale-up, Generac is executing several strategic initiatives, including acquisitions and global footprint expansions.

SOFC manufacturer - Bloom Energy

2Q26 result highlights

- Bloom Energy achieved its first billion-dollar quarter with revenue soaring 166% yoy to $1.07 billion, driven by product sales to data centers. Product revenue rose 215% yoy to $935.4 million, driven by accelerating data center deliveries.
- The company raised FY26 revenue guidance materially to $3.9B–$4.2B (representing ~100% yoy growth at the midpoint vs. prior guidance of +80% yoy).

Key call takeaways on AIDC power

- Industry demand: Management characterized AI data center power demand as accelerating, with customers increasingly prioritizing “time to power” given the revenue impact of delayed compute capacity. Bloom cited industry expectations of c.30–40GW of new AI data center capacity coming online in 2027 with grid constraints pushing customers toward onsite power.
- Order, Backlog, Lead Time & Pricing:
 - Management stated that all major US hyperscalers and over a dozen US neoclouds, AI labs, and colocation data center operators have validated and approved Bloom’s power solutions for AI factories, and highlighted that the backlog is growing faster than revenue. Shorter lead times (months vs. years for combustion competitors) remain a key competitive advantage.
 - Management cited Nebius as a customer that shifted away from alternative onsite power solutions and came to Bloom. Management also noted repeat-order strength, saying 80% of 2025 bookings were from customers placing multiple repeat orders.
- Pricing: Management said customers are paying for “time to power” and advanced capabilities (e.g., load-following, carbon capture readiness) rather than commodity kilowatts.
- Capacity Updates:
 - Management reiterated that capacity should not be a constraint for current orders and visible demand, saying Bloom has been continuously adding US manufacturing capacity and will continue to add capacity ahead of committed orders.

- Management stated it has visibility for 25GW of deployments from the key raw materials (scandium) supply standpoint and is not dependent on China.

Investment Thesis - Weichai Power

Weichai Power is China's largest manufacturer of internal combustion engines, with ~20% volume share in China's multi-cylinder engine market, with key verticals across commercial vehicle (mainly heavy-duty trucks), construction machinery, agricultural equipment, marine and power generation. In addition to the engine business, Weichai has also managed to build a diversified business portfolio over the years that spans across 1) complete vehicles and auto components, primarily through its 51% owned subsidiary Shaanxi Heavy-duty Motor (China's third largest heavy-duty truck producer) and 51% owned subsidiary Fast Gear (China's largest manufacturer of gear boxes); 2) agricultural equipment which is operated under its 61.1% owned subsidiary Weichai Lovol - China's largest manufacturer of agricultural equipment; and 3) intelligent logistics (mainly sales of industrial trucks and supply chain solution) through its 46.5% owned subsidiary KION (KGX.DE), which is the second largest producer of industrial trucks globally and the largest provider of supply chain solutions globally.

We believe the investment narrative for Weichai has now shifted from heavy-duty trucks to AI data center power generation as the company has managed to build a comprehensive technology/product portfolio across large engines for diesel gensets (as back-up power for AIDC), gas gensets (onsite primary/standby power) and fuel cells (an emerging onsite generation solution). AIDC power generation, currently 12% of Weichai's total 2025E NP, is poised to grow ~10x by 2030E and we see its earnings contribution more than tripling to 43% of the total, driving 60%+ of its incremental EPS growth through 2030E. Such a shift in investment narrative, in our view, warrants a rerating. We are Buy rated on both the H-share and A-share.

Price Target Risks and Methodology - Weichai Power

Valuation: We adopt a SoTP-based valuation methodology as we believe SoTP better captures the different stages of growth the company's various power generation products are in. Our primary valuation is anchored to the H-share.

- We value Weichai's legacy business using mid-cycle P/E (12x) on average 2026E-27E EPS and KION's attributable market cap value to Weichai.
- For Weichai's AIDC power generation business portfolio: 1) Diesel large engines (back-up power): We apply 25x 2028E P/E, discounted back to mid-2027E using a CoE of 9%; 2) RICE (prime power): We apply 30x 2030E P/E, discounted back to mid-2027E using a CoE of 9%. 3) SOFC (prime power): We apply 51x 2030E P/E, discounted back to mid-2027E using a CoE of 9%.

With this, we derive our H-share 12-m target price at HK$56.0/share. For the A-share, we assume a 6% discount to the H-share equity value referencing to the trading patterns over the 6 month, leading to a 12-m target price of Rmb48.00/share.

Key risks: 1) Slower-than-expected macro activity, particularly in road freight, infrastructure and property; 2) weaker-than-expected global economic growth; 3) powertrain shift to higher electrification penetration and lower LNG penetration; 4) weaker-than-expected HDT engine market share performance; 5) slower-than-expected development in power generation business.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Quantum is Goldman Sachs' proprietary database providing access to detailed financial statement histories, forecasts and ratios. It can be used for in-depth analysis of a single company, or to make comparisons between companies in different sectors and markets.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at <https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html>.

The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are removed pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs' involvement in a transaction, and in certain other circumstances. Early-Stage Biotech (ES). An investment rating and a target price are not assigned pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when this company has neither a drug, treatment or medical device that has passed a Phase II clinical trial nor a license to distribute a post-Phase II drug, treatment or medical device. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company.
