Summary of the week

- Bottom sectors: Non-Ferrous Metals, Electrical Machinery

In this week's Japan Weekly Kickstart, we focus on the 2Q3/27 earnings preview for companies with March fiscal year-end. October 30 is a heavy reporting day in the first half, while November 6 and 10-13 will also see a large number of companies reporting in the second half. Consensus calls for 2Q recurring profits/net profits to rise +17%/+14% yoy, excluding SoftBank Group. In our view, the big focus of this interim earnings season will be whether AI-related stocks continue to show strong earnings momentum which could improve the sentiment to the AI theme. We think non-AI stocks will also continue to deliver robust earnings, and share buyback momentum to remain strong to support the market in Q4.

- Strong earnings outlook for this year driven by manufacturers and financials: Company guidance now expects FY26 net profit growth to be +15%, while the consensus expects +26%. Profit growth is highest for manufacturers, followed by financials (Exhibit 4).
- Earnings revision momentum has been strong across sectors: As can be seen in Exhibit 7, earnings revision YTD has been driven by AI-related stocks, but non-AI stocks also saw large revisions following 1Q earnings season. Breakdown by sector group shown in Exhibit 8 suggests Banks as a stand out sector group.
- Expect large buyback announcements: Historically, calendar Q4 has the second highest buyback announcement value as companies announce buyback programs during the interim earnings season. We expect this year's announcement to be greater than previous years', similar to past few quarters (Exhibit 12).
- Foreigners and Individuals were net buyers, and Institutions were net sellers: According to the latest data from the TSE, for the week 5-9 Oct, Foreigners and Individuals net bought ¥1.4tn and ¥47bn of TSE Prime cash equities respectively, and Domestic Institutions net sold -¥219bn.

Investors should consider this report as only a single factor in making their investment decision. For Reg AC certification and other important disclosures, see the Disclosure Appendix, or go to www.gs.com/research/hedge.html.

Appendix One - Methodology

Our original analysis which has now been integrated into the Japan Weekly Kickstart format focuses on sector and thematic performance of the more liquid portion of the Japanese equities market. This is defined as any Japanese stocks that trade over US$20mn adtv. We believe that a significant number of our clients have liquidity constraints which require them to limit their stand-alone positions to this particular universe. By our calculations, there are 271 stocks in Japan that trade above this liquidity threshold as of Dec 17 2025.

We have sub-divided this universe into 45 equal weighted indices that focus on either MSCI-defined sectors and sub-sectors, or areas of thematic focus that stretch across multiple sectors (such as High Dividend Yield or Gaming). For these thematic indices, we have relied either on quantitative measures and/or GS Equity analyst input on component selection. We hope to expand the number of indices over time and would welcome client feedback on any areas of thematic interest we should focus on.

We track the performance of the equal-weighted sector, sub-sector and thematic indices over time and also measure the spread between the best-performing and the worst-performing stocks within the index. For example, Exhibit 42 illustrates both the volatility of the mean weekly performance in the liquid SPE index (the dark blue line), and the weekly Best-Worst spreads within the index (the light blue cloud).

Exhibit 42: SPE index 52 week equal-weighted cumulative weekly performance and best-worst spreads

Source: FactSet, Data compiled by Goldman Sachs Global Investment Research

The criteria we have used in our analysis of the liquid Japanese equities market can be summarized as follows:

- Total universe consists of Japanese stocks with a 6-month adtv of over US$20mn (271 stocks as of Dec 17 2025).
- The universe will be refreshed every year.
- Indices are all equal-weighted.
- Index component selection is based on MSCI sector and sub-sector definitions, quantitative factors and/or GS single-stock Equity Analyst guidance.
- The same stock can appear in multiple indices.
- The Best-Worst spread is based on the difference between the best performing and worst performing component within each index.
- The first 12 months of trading of any new listing are not included in the index performance.

We anticipate that the number of indices will be adjusted over time and would welcome any client feedback on other areas within the liquid Japan equities universe we should be focused on.
