

BofA Frontier AI Data Tracker: Model rankings, usage data, and token/GPU costs

Industry Overview

Key signals shaping Internet AI stocks sentiment

Frontier AI capabilities, AI usage & pricing, and the pace of AI investments remain key drivers of sentiment and valuation across large-cap Internet stocks. The BofA Frontier AI Tracker monitors key indicators across the AI value stack, including frontier model intelligence rankings, usage trends, token pricing, GPU rental rates & memory costs.

Intelligence: Claude Fable 5.1 & GPT-6 Astra leading

Per Artificial Analysis, Claude Fable 5.1 (max w/fallback) and GPT-6 Astra (max) both ranked highest in intelligence index with a score of 53. Meta's newest model, MuseSpark 1.3 (max) ranked 5th, while Gemini 3.8 Flash ranked 12th. Claude Fable leads on agentic, while MuseSpark is a close T-2nd. MuseSpark's rankings suggest MSL is narrowing the performance gap and we look forward to the Watermelon launch. Maintain Buy on Meta.

Usage: DeepSeek leads in token share, Anthropic on spend

Data from Vercel AI platform suggests DeepSeek gained token usage share m/m and led at 46% market share, while Anthropic ranked second for usage at 14% and first for spend at 52% (down from 64% in Aug.). OpenAI accounted for 12% of usage & 22% of spend (up from 13% in Aug.). On OpenRouter, token usage share was led by DeepSeek V4 Flash 0731 (Open) at 50.7tr tokens MTD, followed by GPT-5.6 Luna (Closed) at 45.1tr tokens and Hy4 preview (Open) at 34.6tr tokens.

Token prices stabilize per TPI following August decline

AI Token price Index (TPI) was up 5% m/m (up 104% y/y) to $2.41 as of Sep 13 while the LLM Token Expenditure Index was down 11% m/m to $0.98. Potential drivers of change in AI token price index included: 1) GPT-6 Astra joined the index matching Fable 5.1 as the highest-priced model, 2) GLM-5.3-Flash entered as the lowest-priced model, and 3) DeepSeek V4.1 Flash replaced V4 Flash at a lower price.

GPU rentals mixed; memory largely stable m/m

According to Silicon Data, B200 rental prices were up 1% m/m (+9% y/y) to $5.68 in Sept, H100 were down 4% m/m (+30% y/y) to $2.65 & A100 were down 3% m/m (+15% y/y) to $1.60. DRAM memory prices (DDR5 – 5600/6400 24GB 3Gx8) were up 1% m/m (+476% y/y) and NAND memory prices (QLC Flash 1TB) were down 1% m/m (+437% y/y). Data suggests server useful lives remain healthy (A100 shipments started in 2020).

Healthy AI demand, Meta closing gap to the frontier

Sept data suggests: 1) Token price has stabilized after August decline, 2) Anthropic & OpenAI continue to lead on intelligence, and models are closely matched, 3) Meta's latest models are narrowing the intelligence gap, and we remain constructive on upcoming AI product launches and new Watermelon LLM (expected in Oct), 4) Open models continue to gain usage share, and DeepSeek continues to lead token usage on some platforms, 5) GPU rental pricing remains firm suggesting AI infrastructure demand remains healthy, and 6) Memory costs were stable m/m but remain significantly elevated y/y. We think debate around AI safety/regulation may influence sentiment on hyperscalers in the near-term, See our note: AI safety concerns back in the headlines.

How to interpret OpenRouter model usage data?

OpenRouter is an AI model aggregation and routing platform that provides developers with access to multiple LLMs through a single API. OpenRouter LLM usage rankings offer a real-time view of model adoption based on token volume routed through the OpenRouter platform, making the data a useful indicator of developer mindshare, cost-performance trade-offs and commercial traction within the frontier AI ecosystem.

However, we note OpenRouter data should not be interpreted as total model usage across the broader AI market. The dataset captures usage from developers and applications that route requests through OpenRouter but does not include workloads that go directly through provider-specific APIs or cloud platforms such as OpenAI API, Anthropic API, Google Vertex AI/Gemini API, AWS Bedrock or Azure OpenAI. It also excludes usage from enterprise private deployments, self-hosted inference stacks, hyperscaler internal workloads and company-owned data centers unless those workloads are routed through OpenRouter.

Token Volume Share on Vercel AI Platform

DeepSeek led the average MTD token usage share on the Vercel AI platform at 45.7% (vs. 30.1% in August), followed by Anthropic with average MTD token market share at 13.6% (vs. 22.1% in August), OpenAI's 12% (vs. 14.9% in August) and Z.AI 7.2% (vs. 6.8% in August). The most notable share gains were DeepSeek (+15.5pt) and Meta (+1.9pt), followed by Z.AI (+0.4pt), while the largest declines were Anthropic (down 8.5pt), Stepfun (down 4.5pt), and OpenAI (down 2.9pt).

Exhibit 8: DeepSeek lead AI Token Usage on Vercel, capturing approximately 45.7% share MTD in September (vs. 30.1% in August)

Daily Token Volume Share on Vercel AI Platform (%)

Note: Vercel AI data as of Sep 13, 2026

BoFA GLOBAL RESEARCH

Vercel's daily token share data captures each AI lab's share of the total tokens routed through the Vercel AI Gateway, regardless of the price paid per token. Similar to OpenRouter, the data reflects only activity routed through the Vercel gateway and excludes AI inference activity handled directly through the respective labs' APIs or through third-party cloud providers.

Spend Share on Vercel AI Platform

Anthropic led the average MTD spend share on the Vercel AI platform at 52.0% (vs. 63.9% in August), followed by OpenAI at 21.8% (vs. 13.3% in August), and Moonshot.ai at 8.2% (vs. 4.5% in August). The most notable spend share gains were OpenAI (+8.5pt), Moonshot.ai (+3.7pt), and DeepSeek (+2.3pt), while the largest declines were Anthropic (-11.9pt), Z.AI (-2.3pt), and xAI (-0.3pt).

Exhibit 9: Anthropic lead AI model spend on Vercel, capturing approximately 52% share

Daily Spend Share on Vercel AI Platform (%)

BoFA GLOBAL RESEARCH

Vercel's daily spend share represents each AI lab's share of total AI Gateway spend. Vercel calculates spend using market-rate pricing based on providers' published list prices, providing a normalized measure across teams, including those using their own API keys. The metric therefore reflects both the volume of tokens routed to each lab and the market-rate price of those tokens. The data covers only activity routed through Vercel AI Gateway and excludes AI inference handled directly through the respective labs' APIs or through other cloud providers.

Token Pricing

AI Token Price Index- Up 5% m/m aided by GPT-6 addition

AI Token Price Index increased 5% m/m (up 104% y/y) to reach $2.41 as of Sept 10. Potential drivers of the m/m increase included: 1) GPT-6 Astra joined the index at $10 per mn input tokens and $50 per mn output tokens, matching Fable 5.1 as the highest-priced model, 2) GLM-5.3-Flash entered at $0.15 per mn input tokens and $0.50 per mn output tokens, establishing a new price floor, and 3) DeepSeek V4.1 Flash replaced V4 Flash at a lower price.

Exhibit 10: In September, Token price index went up 5% m/m (+104% y/y).

Token Price Index – Avg cost per 1mn tokens, aggregated across leading providers

Note: Data as of Sep 10, 2026

BofA GLOBAL RESEARCH

The Token Price Index (TPI) tracks the average cost of accessing leading frontier AI models across major providers, including Anthropic, OpenAI, Google, xAI, DeepSeek, Mistral, and Alibaba's Qwen. The index is designed to measure how frontier AI pricing evolves over time as new models are introduced and providers adjust pricing. TPI serves as a barometer for the economics of frontier AI. Index levels can rise when higher-performing premium models gain share or enter the market and fall when lower-cost alternatives or pricing reductions improve the overall cost efficiency of accessing advanced AI capabilities.

LLM Token Expenditure Index (Silicon Data)

LLM Token Expenditure Index declined 11% m/m to $0.98 as of Sep 13 (vs $1.10 in August).

Exhibit 11: In Sep, LLM Token Expenditure Index declined 11% m/m to $0.98

Silicon Data LLM Token Expenditure Index

BoFA GLOBAL RESEARCH

The Silicon Data LLM Token Expenditure Index (SDLLMTK) is a daily benchmark that tracks the effective cost of AI inference across the LLM ecosystem, expressed as a normalized blended rate in USD per million tokens. The index is calculated using pricing observations across more than 20 leading models and is weighted towards where inference usage is concentrated, providing a market-based view of what users are actually paying for AI inference. The index incorporates data from frontier API providers, open-weight inference platforms, dedicated-instance markets, and self-hosted deployments, offering a broader measure of AI inference economics.

Cost per Task (Artificial Analysis)

According to Artificial Analysis, Claude Fable 5 with fallback has the highest cost per Intelligence Index task among leading frontier AI models at $8.75, followed by Claude Fable 5.1 Max with fallback at $7.63 and Claude Opus 5 Max at $5.86. GPT-6 Astra Max costs $3.26 per task, and Open AI suggests the model can deliver compelling price performance vs leading competition.

BoFA GLOBAL RESEARCH

Artificial Analysis' Cost per Intelligence Index Task measures the effective cost of delivering a unit of AI capability, adjusting for model quality as captured by the Artificial Analysis Intelligence Index. The metric estimates the weighted average cost (USD) of completing a standardized AI task by incorporating all relevant inference costs, including input, cache, reasoning, and output tokens, and weighting each evaluation according to its contribution to the Intelligence Index. Lower values indicate greater cost efficiency, meaning a model can achieve a given level of intelligence at a lower inference cost.

GPU Pricing

Silicon Data GPU Rental Index

According to Silicon Data GPU Rental index, as of Sep 13, B200 (Blackwell) rental prices were up 1% m/m (+9% y/y) to $5.68, H100 (Hopper) rental prices were down 4% m/m (+30% y/y) to $2.65, and A100 (Ampere) rental prices were down 3% m/m (+15% y/y) to $1.60.

Price objective basis & riskAlphabet (GOOGL / GOOG)

Our price objective of $430/$430 is based on 27x 2027E core Google GAAP EPS plus cash per share. Alphabet has traded at an average multiple of 22x GAAP P/E over the last ten years, and we think our target multiple is reasonable vs history given expectations for double-digit revenue growth, Cloud margin expansion, and opportunity to capitalize on strong AI assets.

Downside risks are 1) loss of search traffic to AI tools from competitors, 2) LLM integration in search may take longer than expected or negatively impact search revenues, 3) revenue pressure from compliance with the EU Digital Markets Act (DMA), and 4) potential for increasing Capex and lower FCF-given AI investments.

Amazon.com (AMZN)

Our $320 PO is based on our SOTP analysis that values AWS at 9x 2027E sales, 1P Retail at 1.0x, 3P Retail at 2.5x, and Advertising at 5.0x. Our 2027 sales multiples compare to 5.7x for SaaS comps, 1.3x for Retail comps, 2.4x for Marketplace comps, and 3.9x for Online Media comps. Our PO implies 3.6x blended 2027 P/Sales, 13x '27 EBITDA, and 31x '27 EPS.

Downside risks to our price objective are increasing competition from Cloud providers and big box retailers including Walmart, increasing AWS infrastructure costs that will pressure FCF, and Agentic AI usage that could pressure direct traffic and high-margin ad revenues. The stock has been subject to heavy volatility in the past, based on margin trends, and this volatility could increase due to economic uncertainty.

Meta Platforms Inc (META)

Our $810 price objective is based on 24x 2027E GAAP EPS. On a total company basis, including Metaverse investments, our valuation is at a slight premium to the S&P 500 given Meta's relatively high growth rate and AI opportunity. Historically, Meta has traded at an average premium of 3pts to the S&P 500.

Downside risks are (1) a significant dependence on digital advertising revenue, which remains highly sensitive to macroeconomic conditions, (2) elevated spend on AI initiatives that we expect to hurt margins, (3) a growing base of fixed assets that could reduce cost flexibility in a macro downturn, (4) intensifying competition for user engagement and advertising budgets from AI-native platforms, and (5) elevated regulatory overhang from new teen safety cases or unfavorable outcomes in ongoing litigation.

^{R1} Issuers that were investment banking clients of BofA Securities or one of its affiliates within the past 12 months. For purposes of this Investment Rating Distribution, the coverage universe includes only stocks. A stock rated Neutral is included as a Hold, and a stock rated Underperform is included as a Sell.

FUNDAMENTAL EQUITY OPINION KEY: Opinions include a Volatility Risk Rating, an Investment Rating and an Income Rating. VOLATILITY RISK RATINGS, indicators of potential price fluctuation, are: A - Low, B - Medium and C - High. INVESTMENT RATINGS reflect the analyst's assessment of both a stock's absolute total return potential as well as its attractiveness for investment relative to other stocks within its Coverage Cluster (defined below). Our investment ratings are: 1 - Buy stocks are expected to have a total return of at least 10% and are the most attractive stocks in the coverage cluster; 2 - Neutral stocks are expected to remain flat or increase in value and are less attractive than Buy rated stocks and 3 - Underperform stocks are the least attractive stocks in a coverage cluster. An investment rating of 6 (No Rating) indicates that a stock is no longer trading on the basis of fundamentals. Analysts assign investment ratings considering, among other things, the 0-12 month total return expectation for a stock and the firm's guidelines for ratings dispersions (shown in the table below). The current price objective for a stock should be referenced to better understand the total return expectation at any given time. The price objective reflects the analyst's view of the potential price appreciation (depreciation).

Investment rating	Total return expectation (within 12-month period of date of initial rating)	Ratings dispersion guidelines for coverage cluster ^{R2}
Buy	≥ 10%	≤ 70%
Neutral	≥ 0%	≤ 30%
Underperform	N/A	≥ 20%

^{R2} Ratings dispersions may vary from time to time where BofA Global Research believes it better reflects the investment prospects of stocks in a Coverage Cluster.

INCOME RATINGS, indicators of potential cash dividends, are: 7 - same/higher (dividend considered to be secure), 8 - same/lower (dividend not considered to be secure) and 9 - pays no cash dividend. Coverage Cluster is comprised of stocks covered by a single analyst or two or more analysts sharing a common industry, sector, region or other classification(s). A stock's coverage cluster is included in the most recent BofA Global Research report referencing the stock.
