

Weichai Power (000338.SZ): Generac's generator supply agreement with Amazon strengthens long-term visibility; reiterate Buy

Generac (GNRC, not covered) – a global leader in backup power systems and a key US partner of Weichai Power (via Baudouin-branded large diesel engines) announced a long-term back-up generator supply agreement with Amazon after market close on September 16 (US local time). Generac's share price jumped 33% in after-hours trading post the announcement. We see positive implications for Weichai Power and reiterate our Buy rating on both the A-shares and H-shares.

What's happened?

On September 16, Generac announced that the company has entered into a transaction agreement (see announcement here) with Amazon that combines an equity-linked warrant package with a long-term supply commitment. Per the deal terms, Generac issued Amazon a warrant to purchase up to 1.69 million shares at $200.93/share, with 307,954 shares vesting upfront and the remainder vesting in tranches tied to up to $8bn of aggregate payments from Amazon and its affiliates for backup generators used in Amazon data centers. Alongside the warrant, the parties signed a long-term supply agreement, with initial generator deliveries expected to total $2.4bn in 2027–28. The warrant is exercisable through September 16, 2033, via cash or cashless exercise, subject to customary vesting, anti-dilution, and registration-rights provisions. The deal comes after Generac signed a global supply agreement with a leading hyperscale data center operator in early-June (see our note) and a second hyperscale supply agreement in late-June (see our note).

Positive implications for Weichai Power

As a key large engine supplier to Generac (thru its wholly-owned Baudouin), we see positive implications to Weichai:

- The initial deliveries of $2.4bn over 2027–28 look substantial compared to the $1.6bn data center backlog Generac had, coming out of 2Q, and 5x+ the company's FY26 data center revenue guidance of $450mn (which was raised from $300mn during 2Q26 results). Based on the average manufacturer prices in the US/MW), we estimate the $2.4bn deliveries correspond to 7GW+ generator sets (or 2,500+/3,000+ units assuming 3MW/2.5MW unit size).
- The long-term supply agreement (up to $8bn of aggregate payments) has greatly enhanced order visibility beyond 2028, which should alleviate some investors' concerns around the sustainability of the data center power business.

Takeaways from our recent genset supply chain trip in Shandong (see our note) also point to upside potential to Weichai's 2027 volume target for the power gen business (from supplier channel checks), with additional upside to ASP arising from the unit upsizing trend for back-up power in the US and Southeast Asia.

Price Target Risks and Methodology - Weichai Power

Valuation: We adopt a SoTP-based valuation methodology as we believe SoTP better captures the different stages of growth the company's various power generation products are in. Our primary valuation is anchored to the H-share.

- We value Weichai's legacy business using lower-than-mid-cycle P/E (at 10x) on average 2026E-27E EPS and KION's attributable market cap value to Weichai.
- For Weichai's AIDC power generation business portfolio: 1) Diesel large engines (back-up power): We apply a 20x 2028E P/E, discounted back to mid-2027E using a CoE of 9%; 2) RICE (prime power): We apply a 25x 2030E P/E, discounted back to mid-2027E using a CoE of 9%. 3) SOFC (prime power): We apply a 25x 2030E P/E, discounted back to mid-2027E using a CoE of 9%.

With this, we derive our H-share 12-m target price at HK$55.0/share. For the A-share, we assume a 5% discount to the H-share equity value referencing to the trading patterns over the 6 month, leading to a 12-m target price of Rmb48.00/share.

Key risks: 1) Slower-than-expected macro activity, particularly in road freight, infrastructure and property; 2) weaker-than-expected global economic growth; 3) powertrain shift to higher electrification penetration and lower LNG penetration; 4) weaker-than-expected HDT engine market share performance; 5) slower-than-expected development in power generation business.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock’s total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region’s Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts’ investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at <https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html>.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are removed pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs’ involvement in a transaction, and in certain other circumstances. Early-Stage Biotech (ES). An investment rating and a target price are not assigned pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when this company has neither a drug, treatment or medical device that has passed a Phase II clinical trial nor a license to distribute a post-Phase II drug, treatment or medical device. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company.
