Alibaba Group Holding (BABA/9988.HK)

FY2Q27E Preview: Ecommerce EBITA Trending Better w/ Strong Cloud

CITI'S TAKE

On the back of NBS July/Aug online product sales (+3.3%/+2.2%), we model Sept-Q Taobao/Tmall GMV at LSD YoY, yielding like-for-like CMR of +1% (reported CMR -5.0% YoY). Solid cost discipline and improving quick commerce UE support a +3.6% upward revision to FY2Q27E Ecommerce Group EBITA (Rmb38.8bn, 20.2% margin). Driven by strong enterprise AI compute demand, we raise cloud revenue outlook to +54%/+52%/+44% YoY for FY27-29E, and model FY2Q27E cloud revenue to accelerate to +52% YoY with 12.5% EBITA margin. More importantly, we expect cloud adj. EBITA to fully self-fund AI Labs model training and application spend starting in FY3Q27E. Post-revision, we raise TP to US$193/HK$192 (from US$190/HK$189) for ADS/H-share. Maintain Buy on accelerating AI/Cloud monetization, self-sustaining AI economics, and attractive valuation.

Estimates revision – Reflecting Cloud/AI Labs top-line momentum, conservative e-commerce assumptions, and broad-based margin efficiencies, we adjust FY2Q27E revenue/non-GAAP net profit by -1.2%/+7.5%, and FY27/28/29E by -1.2%/+6.0%, -0.4%/+3.2%, and +0.3%/+4.2%, respectively. We maintain our existing capex forecast at Rmb257.7bn, Rmb283bn, Rmb282bn for FY2027-29E.

FY2Q27E preview – We now model total consolidated revs at Rmb268.1bn (+8.2% YoY) and non-GAAP NP of Rmb26.4bn (9.9% margin) vs Bloomberg cons. of Rmb271.9bn/Rmb24.8bn. We model Ecommerce Group revs to be Rmb192.3bn. Of this, we model CMR to decline 5% YoY (unchanged) to Rmb75.2bn and estimate quick commerce loss to be shy of Rmb10bn (with revs at Rmb52.2bn). We forecast cloud revs to rise +52% YoY to Rmb60.5bn and international ecommerce revs to be Rmb26.95bn (-4% YoY). We forecast consolidated adj. EBITA to grow +190% YoY to Rmb26.3bn or 9.8% margins, with Ecommerce Group EBITA at Rmb38.8bn or 20.2% margins. We now forecast cloud EBITA to be Rmb7.57bn or 12.5% margin. We model adj. EBITDA of Rmb41.4bn (15.4% margin). We expect BABA to report results inline to slightly ahead of our forecast with upside risks from cloud revs and margin.

Raising cloud forecast and AI Labs update – We raise FY27-29E Cloud revenue growth to 54%/52%/44% (Rmb243.5bn/369.2bn/531.1bn, vs. 51%/48%/42% prior). Driven by top-line acceleration and faster margin ramp, we expect cloud adj. EBITA to fully offset AI Labs model training and investment costs starting next quarter (FY3Q27E), establishing a self-sustaining AI investment cycle going forward.

Business Update & FY2Q27E Preview

Double 11 promotional strategies

On September 21, Taobao and Tmall announced the merchant recruitment rules and promotional schedule for the 2026 Double 11 event. The core mechanics across all phases has been confirmed as "official direct discounts" (官方立减) while cross-store threshold discounts (跨店满减) and basket-stacking rules (凑单) will no longer appear as part of the main promotional mechanics. Consumers will receive direct discounts upon placing an order, without needing to collect coupons or calculate basket thresholds.

The event is divided into two tracks: presale and in-stock sales.

- Presale merchant registration runs from September 21 at 12:00 to October 15 at 19:59; deposit payment runs from October 15 at 20:00 to October 20 at 17:59; final payment runs from October 20 at 20:00 to October 25 at 23:59.
- In-stock merchant registration closes on October 19 at 23:59; in-stock sales begin on October 20 at 20:00 and continue through November 13 at 23:59.

According to Ecommerce Pai News (link, 21-Sep), Taobao announced new overseas initiatives for this year's Double 11. This year, Taobao's Double 11 will launch simultaneously in 20 global markets, with 13 countries and regions offering free shipping services. Among them, Hong Kong (China), Macau (China), Singapore, and Malaysia will enjoy "zero-threshold free shipping."

For this year's Double 11, more than 1.2 million Taobao and Tmall merchants are participating in going overseas. In terms of traffic, Taobao will make "promoting good stores" (推好店) a key strategy for this year's Double 11, identifying good stores across four dimensions: quality, distinctiveness, price competitiveness, and service to further amplify the distinctive supply advantages of categories such as apparel, beauty, home goods, and pet products. At the same time, Taobao will add overseas traffic entry points on its homepage, launching a Discover channel, overseas rankings, and curated lists, so that more distinctive merchants and products can be seen by overseas consumers.

Tencent Marketing & Alimama UD on 11.11 Merchant Summit

As reported by Ebrun News (link, 15-Sep), on September 14, Tencent Marketing and Alimama UD held the "Double 11 Merchant Growth Summit," further upgrading their cooperation. Through technology upgrades and subsidy policies, the two parties aim to help merchants achieve business growth during the major promotional period. Merchants can reach users across multiple scenarios within WeChat and then rely on Taobao and Tmall to handle transactions and repeat purchases.

At the same time, the two parties will further leverage AI to optimize the matching between products, content, and users, jointly building an intelligent marketing pipeline to reduce costs and improve efficiency for merchants. The two sides have also launched joint subsidies: during Double 11, merchants placing ads in Moments (朋友圈), Video Accounts (视频号), and Mini Programs (小程序) can enjoy advertising bid subsidies. In addition, Moments ads will introduce a "scratch card" (刮一刮) interactive format, allowing users to scratch to reveal and claim discounts before placing an order.

Harvest Festival measures to support farmers

As reported by Ecommerce Pai (link), Taobao and Tmall released measures for the Harvest Festival aimed at supporting farmers and boosting consumption: AI-powered agricultural assistance to improve operational efficiency, and hundreds of millions in additional subsidies for the "Origin Selection" (产地优选) program. The "One More Item for Harvest" (丰收多一件) initiative will help boost the sale of agricultural products, with the goal of creating 100 new origin areas exceeding 100 million RMB in sales and 2,000 hit products exceeding 1 million RMB in sales.

As of now, more than 100,000 "Origin Selection" merchants have joined Taobao and Tmall, with transaction volume maintaining double-digit rapid growth. Over the past month, the Taobao-Tmall "Origin Selection" program has been rolled out in provinces including Jiangsu, Yunnan, Zhejiang, and Ningxia. Through measures such as jointly issuing consumer vouchers with local governments, launching dedicated event sections on the Taobao app, and conducting traceability livestreams, the program has driven strong sales of harvest goods including Jiangsu hairy crabs, Yunnan's specialty nut and fruit industrial belt, the Xiangshan (Zhejiang) Fishing Season Opening Festival, and the Ningxia wine industrial belt. Among these, the aquatic and seafood product category saw transaction value grow by 212%, while the wine category grew by 516%.

Taobao accelerating on-demand warehouse network

According to Tech Planet and Sina News (link) dated Jul 17, Taobao Convenience Store has signed up more than 700 on-demand warehouses nationwide and aims to open 3,000 locations by year-end. As summer is the peak season for orders, the company plans to accelerate warehouse openings in 3Q.

Taobao Convenience Store is an on-demand retail warehouse brand launched by Taobao Shangou. Unlike traditional supermarkets, its warehouses are generally located in lower-rent areas, operate 24 hours a day, and fulfil online orders through a high-density network.

The business is expanding through three formats: flagship warehouses of over 800 square metres, standard warehouses of over 400 square metres, and campus warehouses of over 100 square metres. Campus warehouses are primarily located near university towns. Taobao Convenience Store is already available through the Taobao Shangou channel in cities including Beijing, Hangzhou and Zhengzhou.

Alongside Freshippo and Tmall Supermarket, the expansion of Taobao Convenience Store adds another key component to Alibaba's on-demand retail ecosystem. Taobao Flash Sales has also increased merchant support and raised expansion targets for its business development teams in 3Q.

AliExpress is testing a VIP membership program

As reported by The Information dated Sep 30, AliExpress is reportedly testing a VIP membership program, Elite, in markets including the UK, Australia, Germany, and Spain, in a move aimed at competing more directly with Amazon. Elite, free of membership fees and projected to reach 1 million members by the end of 2026, will be accessible through an invite to customers with AliExpress purchases surpassing $800 a year, cited an unnamed source as per the news report. Alibaba Group has not commented on the matter.

The program, offering additional 5% discount offers and enhanced customer service and an improved return policy, will reportedly be made available to further markets in Europe and South Korea in October. The company also plans to offer the program in the US; however, a timeline is yet to be finalized.

Alibaba Group Holding \(BABA.N\): Apsara 2026 Day 2 Wrap: Agent Productivity & Globalization Update

To recap (link), Alibaba Group CEO Mr. Eddie Wu shared current AI development is heading towards artificial intelligence (ASI) with diverse applications such as vibe coding and long-horizon tasks and clearer path for recursive self-improvement (RSI). Machine intelligence may further unlock new productivity and revolutionize existing human workflow. Mr. Wu saw two key observations in future AI development. First, while machine thinking currently represents only 3% of human thinking capacity, Mr. Wu believes there is potential for machine thinking to expand to over 1,000x of all humanity combined, driving supply revolution in scalable AI output and demand change to unlock new scenarios beyond existing human activities. Second, Ali also believes machine intelligence's defining products are yet to come despite a lot of AI-native products available currently.

Heading towards the machine intelligence era, Ali believes AI models, AI chips and AI cloud would form the essential foundations.

- Ali observed a clearer path for its AI models towards ASI covering more scenarios such as coding, office and scientific research to complete real missions with early exploration and progress achieved in RSI. Ali plans to develop 5-10T AI models in future iteration to complete more complex and long-horizon tasks while multimodality remains essential for human interaction.
- AI chips represent boundless power for machine intelligence and T-Head covers a full set of chip capabilities including Zhenwu (AI chip), Yitian (server CPU), Panmai (intelligent network), ICN Switch (scale-up inter-chip network), Zhenyue (eSSD storage controller). Zhenwu M890 is able to train 2trn parameter models under largescale chip cluster and supernode with network and inference optimization. Ali also unveiled its new AI chip V900 with performance 3x higher than M890 and a single cluster built on it supporting up to 500,000 cards.
- AI cloud represents a supergrid for machine intelligence supporting multiple AI applications on cloud connectivity. Ali continues to see strong customer demand for its AI cloud including GPU, CPU, network, storage, database optimization. While AI supply remains as a constraint despite accelerating AI cloud revenues, AliCloud plans to expand its AI infrastructure to 20GW by 2032, representing 10x larger the capacity in 2022.

T-Head's new chips

T-Head unveiled Zhenwu V900, reinforcing its push into the inference-centric AI era, where multi-step orchestration and system-level co-design are becoming increasingly critical. AliCloud's Lingjun Supernode GP9A, powered by current-generation Zhenwu M890, is now in service and is claimed to be China's first AI supernode capable of supporting models with >2trn parameters, including Qwen3.8-Max and Kimi K3.

T-Head also open-sourced the core components of its SAIL SDK, enabling native support across major AI frameworks with minimal code modifications and further strengthening ecosystem synergies. To date, Zhenwu platform has served >650 customers across autonomous driving, financial services, foundation models, humanoid robotics, and other enterprise verticals.

Looking ahead, Zhenwu V900 is expected to enter volume production in 1Q27, delivering ~3x the performance of M890 while featuring 216GB of on-chip memory,

1.2TB/s inter-chip interconnect bandwidth, and supporting FP8/FP4 low-precision computing. The next-generation Zhenwu J900 is targeted for production by 3Q28. T-Head also plans to launch its new Panjiu Supernode Server in 1Q27, while next-generation Yitian CPUs, including Yitian 720/730 series, are expected by 3Q27, followed by Yitian 750, which will support ICNLink integration with Zhenwu accelerators.

Production-ready agentic cloud

AliCloud is building an AI-native cloud architecture optimized for agentic era, combining Lingjun Supernodes (targeting 500,000 GPUs), CPFS storage and HPN 8.0 Pro networking to support foundation model training and agentic RL. PAI enables Qwen flagship model post-training in as little as five days at throughput of 45,000 tokens/s. The Agent Native Cloud platform delivers a full-stack framework deploying and governing agent applications at scale.

BABA introduced the Context Engine, a three-in-one architecture combining storage, compute processing and context engineering. Its goal is to transform fragmented enterprise data into real-time context, enabling agents to move from “knowing what” to “knowing what to do now”. At the bottom layer, multimodal data storage handles conversations, video frames, point clouds, trajectories and agent feedback. The middle layer covers data integration, transformation, governance, quality and modeling. The top layer uses enterprise knowledge bases, multimodal semantic fusion, persistent memory management and real-time context assembly to organize scattered data into dynamically updateable context that agents can call on demand.

Agents help enhance business value through token consumption for in-depth reasoning for decision making, long-horizon execution and self-evolution. Ali released Agent Studio as a full-stack agent service platform for enterprises supporting long-horizon runtime, multimodal context, self-evolutionary iteration and security protection. Ali also offers multiple ways including atomic API and agent API to build with unified runtime for diverse tasks. Its agent service also learns, adapts and improves through every interaction with automatic assessment, review, optimization and verification.

LLM in the agentic era

As AI evolves beyond chatbots and reasoning models toward autonomous agents, token demand is accelerating rapidly. Qwen's strategy focuses on two priorities: advancing frontier intelligence through flagship Qwen-Max and expanding AI accessibility through cost-efficient models including Qwen-Flash, Qwen-Plus, Qwen-27B.

Alibaba outlined four key pillars for the agentic era: (1) real-world production and RSI acceleration, with Qwen3.8-Max delivering 8.5x higher revenue generation and 12x greater token consumption versus Qwen3.7, driven by stronger capabilities in software engineering, professional workflows, domain expertise. Alibaba highlighted progress toward Recursive Self-Improvement (RSI), where continuous operational feedback and iterative post-training enhance model performance. (2) Architecture and efficiency upgrades, including Qwen3.8-Flash-Next, which adopts new model designs to improve long-horizon task performance while reducing activated parameters and token costs to one-third/one-fourth of Qwen3.7-Plus. (3) Expansion to full multimodality, spanning text, code, audio, video, graphics via Qwen3.8-Omni. (4) Continued scaling, with Qwen3.8-Max reaching 2.4T parameters (33x growth in two-years) and a roadmap toward Qwen4, Qwen4.5, Qwen5. Alibaba reaffirmed its open-source commitment, with >3bn cumulative downloads, 300k+ derivative models and 460+ official open-source releases.

Multimodality progress

Alibaba highlighted the industry is shifting toward multimodal AI, experience generation and next-generation productivity infrastructure. To support this trend, Qwen is accelerating omni-modal model development to enhance content complexity, interaction speed and cost efficiency. Alibaba's multimodal portfolio now spans Qwen-Image (image), Wan/HappyHorse (video), HappyShrimp (music) and HappyOyster (world model). At Apsara 2026, Alibaba launched Qwen-Image-3.1 for commercial, creative, academic and consumer image generation and editing; upgraded HappyShrimp-1.1 to support >100 music styles and 10+ languages; and unveiled HappyOyster-2.0-Preview with improved physical consistency, 3D memory, response speed.

Looking ahead, video model Wan/HappyHorse is expected to receive its next major upgrade in November, supporting Alibaba's push towards agentic video generation and unified creative intelligence.

Estimates revisions

We have fine-tuned our revs estimates assumption for FY2Q27 to reflect: 1) continued strong growth momentum of cloud revs; 2) sequential strength of AI Labs application revenues; offset by 3) more conservative assumption on ecommerce direct sales, quick commerce and international ecommerce revs. On expenses and margins assumption, since we have previously adjusted our assumption on higher capex and opex spend following the Apsara conference, in this note, we have revised up EBITA estimates thanks to 1) better-than-expected ecommerce EBITA mainly due to operating efficiency and slightly narrower-than-expected loss on quick commerce; 2) higher assumption of cloud margins improvement; 3) smaller loss on AI Labs.

Accordingly, our FY2Q27 total revs and non-GAAP net profit are revised by -1.2%/+7.5%. For FY2027-2029, our total revs and non-GAAP net profit revision are -1.2%/+6%, -0.4%/+3.2% and +0.3%/+4.2%, respectively.

Specifically, we raise our Cloud revenues growth outlook and now forecast Cloud revs to grow at 54%/52%/44% to Rmb243.5bn/Rmb369.2bn/Rmb531.1bn for FY2027, FY2028 and FY2029, up from previous forecast of 51%/48%/42% or Rmb238.7bn/Rmb352.9bn/Rmb501.4bn.

With the stronger cloud revs growth momentum and faster ramp of cloud margins improvement, we expect by next quarter (FY3Q27E) adjusted EBITA generated from Cloud revs to fully offset the AI model training and AI-related investment spend reflected in AI Labs and Application segment. Going forward, we expect cloud adjusted EBITA will fully support all the AI model training and investment expenses.

FY2Q27E preview

BABA is yet to announce FY2Q27 reporting date; we believe it is likely to report around mid-November.

- FY2Q27E preview – We now model total consolidated revs at Rmb268.1bn (+8.2% YoY) and non-GAAP NP of Rmb26.4bn (9.9% margin) vs Bloomberg consensus of Rmb271.9bn/Rmb24.8bn.
 - We model Overall Ecommerce Group revs to be Rmb192.3bn. Of which, we model CMR to decline 5% yoy to Rmb75.2bn (unchanged) reflecting low-single digit growth in GMV with like-for-like CMR growth at around 1% and smaller gap on the counter-revs impact.
 - We estimate quick commerce revs to be Rmb52.2bn (vs Rmb55.96bn previously). Thanks to stable market share, while factoring higher summer demand volume and improving AOV trend amid higher mix of non-food and non-beverage orders, overall UE is likely to further improve on a sequential basis. We estimate loss for quick commerce is likely to trend slightly better on a sequential basis, shy of Rmb10bn this quarter.
 - We also lower international ecommerce revs assumption by 2% and now forecast Rmb26.95bn or -4% yoy factoring in impact from EU zone tariff. Despite softer revs trend, we expect international ecommerce EBITA to further improve.
 - We model ecommerce direct sales at Rmb23.5bn and global wholesales revs at Rmb14.4bn.
- AI Cloud revs – Thanks to continued strong demand momentum, we now forecast cloud revs to grow at 52% yoy to Rmb60.5bn (vs +50% yoy previously). We also raise our cloud margin assumption to 12.5% (from 12%) with EBITA revising up by 5.6% to Rmb7.57bn.
- AI Labs and applications – We revise our AI Labs revs by 13.2% and now model Rmb4bn while lowering the EBITA loss to Rmb10.5bn (vs -Rmb12.5bn previously).
- All Others – Factoring in softer Cainiao revs, we lower All Other revs by 3.5% and now forecast Rmb27.9bn while expecting All others loss around Rmb3.3bn, relatively similar to last quarter of -Rmb3.5bn.
- Adjusted EBITA – We forecast consolidated adj. EBITA to reach +190% YoY to Rmb26.3bn or 9.8% margins, contributed by improvement in total Ecommerce Group EBITA to Rmb38.8bn or 20.2% EBITA margin and cloud EBITA to Rmb7.57bn or 12.5% margins and smaller-than-previously expected loss for AI Labs. We revise our adjusted EBITDA by +6.2% to Rmb41.4bn.
- Expectation – We expect BABA to likely report results relatively in-line to slightly ahead of our new estimates. Any potential upside outperformance vs our estimate is likely to come from Cloud revs and possible cloud margins and Ecommerce EBITA.
- Call focus: 1) Capex, split between opex and capex; 2) cloud revs growth and AI related revs contribution and cloud margin trend; 3) latest ARR for MaaS revs; 4) latest Qwen model, applications and agents; 5) Double 11 performance and CMR expectation; 6) Shangou/quick commerce loss and ecommerce EBITA; 7) free-cash flow and capital funding and 8) shareholder return and buyback update.

Maintain Buy with TP at US$193/HK$192

Post-estimate revisions, our sum-of-the-parts based target prices are adjusted slightly to US$193/HK$192, from US$190/HK$189 previously.

- Alibaba E-commerce Group: We assign a target multiple of 10x P/E on FY2027E profit, which we believe is reasonable to factor in its leading market share in China e-Commerce share, faster growth of quick commerce segment and broader growth opportunity from cross-border and wholesale platform. Our 10x P/E is in-line with average of domestic China and global peers.
- AI Cloud and Compute Services: We assign a 7.0x P/S multiple on FY2027E revenue of AI Cloud and Compute Services to reflect continued acceleration of revenue driven by AI-related revs and higher margins MaaS revs and improving cloud margin outlook, and the 7.0x is still at an implied discount to global peers of 7.5x-12x.
- AI Labs and Applications (AI model labs, Qwen Consumer Business Group, QwenWork): We assign a 5.0x P/S multiple on FY2027E revenue of AI Labs and Applications, which we derive from a 30% discount to Cloud multiple given the early stage of monetization of Qwen consumer app and QwenWork productivity agent while legacy revs from Dingtalk and Quark are experiencing slower growth.
- All others: We assign a 0.2x P/S multiple to adjusted consolidated revenues.
- Net cash: To be in line with our SOTP valuation approach for other internet peers, we apply a 30% discount to net cash.

In total, our SOTP derives a fair value of US$463.8bn, equivalent to US$193 per ADS or HK$192 per H-share.

We continue to view Alibaba as a core holding with a comprehensive, full-stack AI ecosystem, from its T-Head chips, cloud infrastructure, Qwen model to its application-layer ambitions in agentic commerce. While this asset-heavy investment is front-loaded and will weigh on short-term profitability, we believe the investment pace is manageable. The capex spend is justified by a measurable payback period, driven by gross margin expansion, enhanced pricing power, and improved utilization. With stabilizing ecommerce EBITA along with CMR growth and improving Cloud EBITA, we anticipate significant value-unlocking opportunities as Alibaba demonstrates the improving strength of its AI full-stack capabilities with cost synergies and improving cloud margins potentially riding on continuous AI innovation. We believe Alibaba is well-positioned to capitalize on the rapid growth of the token economy.

Alibaba

Company description

Alibaba was founded in 1999. In the years since, Alibaba has created one of the world's leading internet e-commerce companies with an online ecosystem for buyers, sellers, third-party service providers, third-party payments, and strategic partners. The company was listed on the NYSE in September 2014 and completed its secondary listing in Hong Kong in November 2019.

Investment strategy

We rate Alibaba H-shares as Buy. We are positive on Alibaba given: i) it has the leading online commerce ecosystem in China (combined 80% market share in C2C and B2C segments); ii) its monetization rate has upside potential; iii) synergies can be harvested across marketplaces, leveraging big data analysis, and AliCloud infrastructure; and iv) growth opportunities beckon in China's rural cities and globally.

Valuation

Our target price for Alibaba H-shares of HK$192 is based on 10x P/E on FY2027E Ecommerce group net profit, 7.0x P/S on FY2027E AI Cloud and Compute Services revenue, 5.0x P/S on AI Labs and Applications revenue, and 0.2x P/S on all other businesses. Our target multiples are benchmarked against comps. We also assign a 30% discount to net cash position, in-line with our SOTP for other internet peers. Our SOTP fair value comes to HK$192 per share.

Risks

Key downside risks that could prevent the shares from reaching our target price include: (i) failure in executing its new retail strategy; ii) investment spend and margins pressure become worse than expected; iii) slowdown of user traffic and online GMV and losing appeal to brands & merchants; iv) integration risks for newly acquired entities; v) slowdown of the Chinese and global economies and overhang of US-China or other trade disputes; and vi) regulatory risks on poor product quality and integrity of merchants.

Guide to Citi Research Fundamental Research Investment Ratings:

Citi Research stock recommendations include an investment rating and an optional risk rating to highlight high risk stocks.

Risk rating takes into account both price volatility and fundamental criteria. Stocks will either have no risk rating or a High risk rating assigned.

Investment Ratings: Citi Research investment ratings are Buy, Neutral and Sell. Our ratings are a function of analyst expectations of expected total return ("ETR") and risk. ETR is the sum of the forecast price appreciation (or depreciation) plus the dividend yield for a stock within the next 12 months. The target price is based on a 12 month time horizon. The Investment rating definitions are: Buy (1) ETR of 15% or more or 25% or more for High risk stocks; and Sell (3) for negative ETR. Any covered stock not assigned a Buy or a Sell is a Neutral (2). For stocks rated Neutral (2), if an analyst believes that there are insufficient valuation drivers and/or investment catalysts to derive a positive or negative investment view, they may elect with the approval of Citi Research management not to assign a target price and, thus, not derive an ETR. Citi Research may suspend its rating and target price and assign "Rating Suspended" status for regulatory and/or internal policy reasons. Citi Research may also suspend its rating and target price and assign "Under Review" status for other exceptional circumstances (e.g. lack of information critical to the analyst's thesis, trading suspension) affecting the company and/or trading in the company's securities. In both such situations, the rating and target price will show as "—" and "—" respectively in the rating history price chart. Prior to 11 April 2022 Citi Research assigned "Under Review" status to both situations and prior to 11 Nov 2020 only in exceptional circumstances. As soon as practically possible, the analyst will publish a note re-establishing a rating and investment thesis. Investment ratings are determined by the ranges described above at the time of initiation of coverage, a change in investment and/or risk rating, or a change in target price (subject to limited management discretion). At times, the expected total returns may fall outside of these ranges because of market price movements and/or other short-term volatility or trading patterns. Such interim deviations will be permitted but will become subject to review by Research Management. Your decision to buy or sell a security should be based upon your personal investment objectives and should be made only after evaluating the stock's expected performance and risk.

Catalyst Watch/Short Term Views ("STV") Ratings Disclosure:

Catalyst Watch and STV Upside/Downside calls: Citi Research may also include a Catalyst Watch or STV Upside or Downside call to indicate the analyst expects the share price to rise (fall) in absolute terms over a specified period of 30 or 90 days in reaction to one or more specific near-term catalysts or events impacting the company or the market. A Catalyst Watch will be published when Analyst confidence is high that an impact to share price will occur; it will be a STV when confidence level is moderate. A Catalyst Watch or STV Upside/Downside call will automatically expire at the end of the specified 30/90 day period. The Catalyst Watch will also be automatically removed if share price performance (calculated at market close) exceeds 15% against the direction of the call (unless over-ridden by the analyst). The analyst may also remove a Catalyst Watch or STV call prior to the end of the specified period in a published research note. A Catalyst Watch/STV Upside or Downside call may be different from and does not affect a stock's fundamental equity rating, which reflects a longer-term total absolute return expectation. For purposes of FINRA ratings-distribution-disclosure rules, a Catalyst Watch/STV Upside call corresponds to a buy recommendation and a Catalyst Watch/STV Downside call corresponds to a sell recommendation. Any stock not assigned to a Catalyst Watch Upside, Catalyst Watch Downside, STV Upside, or STV Downside call is considered Catalyst Watch/STV No View. For purposes of FINRA ratings distribution-disclosure rules, we correspond Catalyst Watch/STV No View to Hold in our ratings distribution table for our Catalyst Watch/STV Upside/Downside rating system. However, we reiterate that we do not consider No View to be a recommendation. For all Catalyst Watch/STV Upside/Downside calls, risk exists that the catalyst(s) and associated share-price movement will not materialize as expected.
