F1Q27 preview: pricing remains strong, HAMR continues to ramp; PO $1200

Reiterate Rating: BUY | PO: 1,200.00 USD | Price: 675.13 USD

Expecting a strong quarter on continued strong pricing

We expect STX to report a strong F1Q27 and model revenues at the high end of guidance ($4.2bn vs. guidance $4.0-4.2bn) and EPS of $7.60 (higher than guidance range $7.10-7.50). This compares to Street at $4.14bn/$7.41. We believe that the majority of STX's nearline HDD volume is under build-to-order contracts, and as these come up for renewal, we expect STX to increase pricing. We see continued strong HDD pricing and model $/TB +22% y/y . We expect revenue and profitability to increase sequentially every quarter in F27. STX continues to target mid-20% EB CAGR although we expect demand continues to trend higher than that. We expect mgmt. to guide F2Q rev to $4.5bn +/- $100m, and EPS to $8.50 +/- $0.20. Reiterate Buy on secular demand from cloud, revenue and margin improvement and path to higher capacity HAMR HDDs.

We see demand sustaining in the medium term

While we continue to see strong demand, EB growth could be constrained based on ramping yields on Mosaic 4+. We see margins benefiting from lower cost per terabyte as the product mix migrates from PMR-based drives toward HAMR. For F27, we model 11.5mn HAMR units with 2.2mn in F1Q27. The Sep quarter should no longer be impacted from favorable HAMR pricing given to STX's first hyperscale customer. We model $/TB growth of around 20% y/y for the next several quarters.

Pricing commentary to reinforce disciplined industry

While the HDD stocks have derated significantly, we see the continued potential for strong positive estimate revisions. Despite being widely reported in the media that Toshiba is attempting to add capacity, our industry checks suggest that pricing discussions at Hyperscalers remain constructive. We expect strong pricing growth and margins to continue well into 2028.

Raising estimates; PO moves to $1200 (from $1150)

Our F27 revenue/EPS move to $18.7bn/$36.53, from $17.5bn/$32.06, respectively. Our PO moves to $1200 on 16x C28E EPS of $76.24 (prior $1150 on 19x C28E EPS). We use a lower multiple as our estimates are embedding higher growth outlook and closer to peak margins vs. our prior expectations.

Company Sector

IT Hardware

Company Description

Seagate Technology (STX) designs, manufactures and markets hard disk drives for use in enterprise storage, servers, desktops, laptop computers, and other consumer electronic devices. It also has a growing solid state drive and storage systems portfolio. The company sells its products directly to OEMs, as well as distributors and retailers, and its production capabilities are vertically integrated.

Investment Rationale

We expect revenue and earnings to inflect higher as legacy market headwinds become smaller and mass capacity needs increase net of any cannibalization from Flash. We expect overall industry margins to improve and strong shareholder returns to continue. We rate STX Buy.

Price objective basis & risk

Seagate Technology (STX)
Our PO of $1200 is based on 16x our C2028E EPS estimate of $76.24. This multiple compares to the historical P/E range of 4x-28x, with median 8x, and is warranted in our view as demand continues to outpace supply, pricing continues to go higher, and peak earnings can be higher than historical peaks. The multiple balances near-term headwinds against the return of a more rational HDD industry and return to revenue and EPS growth.

Downside risks to our price objective are: (1) any slowdown in cloud/data center spending, (2) worse than expected industry pricing, (3) increased usage of NAND flash vs. hard disk drives, (4) share loss to WDC in the enterprise HDD market, (5) further unit declines in desktops and notebooks, and (6) degradation of cash position and potential violation of credit facility covenants. Upside risks are: (1) higher than expected demand for HAMR drives, (2) better mix of high capacity/nearline HDDs, which could drive ASPs and gross margin higher, (3) improved technological advantage and total cost of ownership benefit over NAND flash so as to reduce SSD penetration, (4) consumer PC refresh cycle driving higher hard drive demand, and (5) improved free cash flow generation.

FUNDAMENTAL EQUITY OPINION KEY: Opinions include a Volatility Risk Rating, an Investment Rating and an Income Rating. VOLATILITY RISK RATINGS, indicators of potential price fluctuation, are: A - Low, B - Medium and C - High. INVESTMENT RATINGS reflect the analyst's assessment of both a stock's absolute total return potential as well as its attractiveness for investment relative to other stocks within its Coverage Cluster (defined below). Our investment ratings are: 1 - Buy stocks are expected to have a total return of at least 10% and are the most attractive stocks in the coverage cluster; 2 - Neutral stocks are expected to remain flat or increase in value and are less attractive than Buy rated stocks and 3 - Underperform stocks are the least attractive stocks in a coverage cluster. An investment rating of 6 (No Rating) indicates that a stock is no longer trading on the basis of fundamentals. Analysts assign investment ratings considering, among other things, the 0-12 month total return expectation for a stock and the firm's guidelines for ratings dispersions (shown in the table below). The current price objective for a stock should be referenced to better understand the total return expectation at any given time. The price objective reflects the analyst's view of the potential price appreciation (depreciation).

Buy	≥ 10%	≤ 70%

Subject to the quiet period applicable under laws of the various jurisdictions in which we distribute research reports and other legal and BofA Securities policy-related restrictions on the publication of research reports, fundamental equity reports are produced on a regular basis as necessary to keep the investment recommendation current.

Certain outstanding reports or investment opinions relating to securities, financial instruments and/or issuers may no longer be current. Always refer to the most recent research report relating to an issuer prior to making an investment decision.

In some cases, an issuer may be classified as Restricted or may be Under Review or Extended Review. In each case, investors should consider any investment opinion relating to such issuer (or its security and/or financial instruments) to be suspended or withdrawn and should not rely on the analyses and investment opinion(s) pertaining to such issuer (or its securities and/or financial instruments) nor should the analyses or opinion(s) be considered a solicitation of any kind. Sales persons and financial advisors affiliated with BofAS or any of its affiliates may not solicit purchases of securities or financial instruments that are Restricted or Under Review and may only solicit securities under Extended Review in accordance with firm policies.
