Ruijie continued to deliver solid 3Q26 revenue growth of 43% YoY (or -1% QoQ) to Rmb5.8bn, or 7% higher than our estimates, which we attribute it to the ramp up of data center switch shipment and strong client demand. 3Q GM was improved to 32.9% (vs. 2Q26 at 29.5%), overall in line with our estimates due to product mix with lower contribution from white box data center switches. OP in 3Q26 was largely in line, while NI was 10% higher than our estimates due to higher-than-expected non-OP. As one of the leading switch suppliers in China, the company continues to migrate to next generation of 1.6T high-speed switches and 51.2T CPO switches to support clients' AI platform development, benefiting from growing Capex spending by CSP clients. Maintain Neutral.

Solid AI switch order momentum: Ruijie's inventory was up to Rmb9.1bn by end of 3Q26 (vs. Rmb3.8bn/ Rmb5.6bn by end of 1Q26/ 2Q26), and management noted the increase of inventory was due to (1) solid client order momentum in 4Q26E/ 2027E, (2) strong client demand, and (3) company's strategy to better secure supply in advance. Regarding the rising cost of upstream material, management noted the company shares the cost burden with clients, while optimizing the model and design to improve the cost structure.

Earnings revision: We factor in Ruijie Networks' 3Q26 result, revise up 2026E earnings by 1%, and keep 2027-30E estimates largely unchanged. We revise up 2026E revenues mainly on higher-than-expected data center switch growth on solid client demand.

Valuation: We continue to derive our 12M TP based on a near-term P/E; our 2027E target P/E is updated to 56.5x (vs. 63.0x previously) mainly on lower 2027E-28E net income growth, still based on peer correlation between forward year trading P/E and net income growth, and recent re-rating due to key debates on clients' AI spending and networking architecture. With our updated target P/E and earnings estimates, our 12M TP is revised down to Rmb119.3 (vs. Rmb133.1 previously).

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target.
