Earnings Review: 3Q26 margin miss on largely temporary mix and tax headwinds; maintain Buy (on CL)

CATL reported 3Q26 results after market close on October 20 and held an analyst briefing that evening. Revenue hit a record Rmb165bn, 6% above expectations (GSe), on broadly in-line shipments. However, net profit of Rmb21.25bn (+15% yoy and -6% qoq) missed GSe by 12%, with unit net profit down 15% qoq to Rmb82/kWh (vs. GSe: Rmb93/kWh). Unfavorable mix and consumption tax drove the miss—two of the three swing factors flagged in our 3Q26 preview (see our note). Inventory impairment rose sharply qoq, reflecting prudent accounting, but was below GSe. Management views most of these pressures as temporary and expects unit margins to remain healthy over the long term.

On demand, management reiterated that global battery volumes could grow at a 20-30% CAGR over the next five years, highlighting strong overseas growth potential in both ESS and EVs while acknowledging near-term domestic market pressure.

Following the result, the unit-margin debate could become a key share-price driver. We believe the longer revenue conversion cycle for high-value-added system integration explains part, if not most, of the margin compression. However, passing through consumption tax and the impact of the VAT rebate phase-out will likely take time. We therefore cut our 2026E-28E EPS estimates by 4-7%, assuming CATL absorbs the full tax impact for the rest of this year and shares it with customers from next year onward. Still, the market may be underestimating the margin benefits of CATL's shift toward ESS integration, which should become clearer as revenue is recognized.

We reiterate our Buy rating (on CL) with revised 12-m TPs of Rmb506/HK$777 (A/H). We believe the share price reflects excessive pessimism around industry-wide risks, including demand concerns and tax changes, while CATL's ability to navigate these headwinds as a global leader remains underappreciated.

3Q26 earnings summary

Topline performance

- 3Q26 revenue reached a quarterly record of Rmb165.22bn (+59% yoy/+12% qoq), 6% above GSe. Management shared sales volume of over 260GWh, implying growth of 58% yoy/11% qoq, broadly in line with GSe.

Profitability

- 3Q26 GPM was 20.7% (-5.1ppt yoy/-2.5ppt qoq), 3.8ppt below GSe. Management attributed the decline primarily to a less favorable product mix, including higher domestic ESS sales and lower system integration during the quarter.
- Opex of Rmb15.74bn (+42% yoy) was 2% below GSe. Business taxes more than tripled both yoy and qoq, mainly due to consumption tax, according to management. Impairment losses rose 18% yoy and more than doubled qoq, reflecting inventory write-downs linked to lithium carbonate price fluctuations; management noted that these could reverse as sales are realized. Other gains of Rmb3.30bn (+13% yoy/qoq) were in line with GSe. EBITM was 13.2% (-4.8ppt yoy/-4.1ppt qoq), 3.2ppt below GSe, while EBIT of Rmb21.73bn (+16% yoy/-15% qoq) was 15% below GSe.
- Below EBIT, net finance expenses (-32% yoy/+18% qoq) were below expectations, as interest expenses were higher than expected. NPM was 12.9% (-4.9ppt yoy/-2.4ppt qoq), 2.5ppt below GSe, with NP of Rmb21.25bn (+15% yoy/-6% qoq) 12% below GSe.
- Implied unit NP fell by DD% both yoy and qoq to Rmb82/kWh (vs. Rmb112/kWh in 3Q25 and Rmb97/kWh in 2Q26). Alongside the unfavorable product mix and consumption tax, management highlighted a larger qoq impact from lower export tax rebates. The lag between shipment and revenue recognition meant that 2Q26 reflected only a partial impact, versus a full-quarter impact in 3Q26.

Balance sheet and cash flow

- 3Q26 operating cash inflow fell to Rmb1.41bn from the previous Rmb20–30bn range. Management attributed the decline to proactive prepayments and shorter payment terms for upstream suppliers, supporting capacity expansion amid strong downstream demand. Management described these measures as temporary and short-cycle in nature, and expects cash flow to normalize to a healthy level over time.
- Capex rose 35% qoq/73% yoy to Rmb17.10bn as capacity expansion accelerated to meet strong demand, according to management, resulting in temporarily negative FCF. Net cash remained strong at Rmb183.95bn, vs. Rmb226.38bn at end-2Q26.

Earnings call takeaway

Unit NP dynamics and tax pass-through

- Management cited a less favorable product mix, with more lower-value-added projects delivered in 3Q26, as the main drag on unit NP, outweighing the impact of the resumption of consumption tax and lower export rebates. Raw-material price linkage mechanisms limited the impact of price fluctuations in inputs such as copper foil.
- On tax pass-through, management said discussions with customers on sharing the tax burden remain ongoing, with pass-through not yet fully reflected in reported earnings.
- Looking ahead, management expects unit NP to recover, supported by a broader product mix and new product launches.

ESS mix and new EV products

- Management highlighted a rising share of AC-side ESS solutions in shipments, although their contribution has yet to be fully reflected in earnings. Revenue recognition for overseas AC-side ESS projects typically takes 6–12 months, pending grid-connection acceptance. These shipments therefore largely remain recorded as goods dispatched within inventory.
- Management also highlighted progress in battery swapping for passenger and commercial vehicles:
  - Passenger vehicles: The 'Choco-Swap' network has reached 2,500 stations across 31 provincial-level regions, with a target of more than 3,000 by year-end. Management highlighted the strategic cooperation framework signed on October 19, involving Huawei and CAES, to integrate vehicle-, station- and cloud-side systems. Management attributed accelerating adoption to the economic benefits of swapping for end-users, viewing the model as a way to ease competitive pressure on automakers and reduce consumers' concerns about battery ownership costs.

- Commercial vehicles: Management said CATL is accelerating the rollout of its Qiji heavy-truck swapping ecosystem. Its second-generation Tianxing heavy-truck battery uses a dual-battery architecture combining a swappable battery pack with an onboard range-extension battery pack, designed to improve replenishment efficiency and vehicle utilization.

Overseas capacity

- Management said the 39GWh first phase in Hungary and the 14GWh facility in Germany have commenced production, while the 50GWh project in Spain is progressing steadily. Overseas capacity deployment and customer development remain on track.

Business updates and 2027E outlook

- 4Q26: Management said new capacity coming onstream has eased the tightness seen in 1H26, with both scheduled production and deliveries increasing yoy and qoq.
- 2027 demand: Management views industry growth of 20–30% as achievable.
  - Domestic EVs: Management expects battery demand to continue growing despite a declining overall passenger-vehicle market, supported by rising EV penetration and battery capacity per vehicle. Commercial-vehicle electrification is advancing rapidly, supported by new products and infrastructure.
  - Overseas EVs: Management expects limited US growth but continued electrification in Europe, supported by new OEM models.
  - ESS and longer-term demand: Management acknowledged uncertainty around domestic ESS demand in 2027 but remains confident in near-term overseas demand. AIDC demand has yet to fully materialize, providing further support for the longer-term outlook.

Earnings revisions and valuation

Following the result, we cut our 2026E–2028E EPS estimates by 4–7% to reflect the resumption of consumption tax and lower export tax rebates. We assume CATL bears the full consumption tax impact for the rest of this year and shares the tax burden (including consumption tax and VAT rebate phase-out) equally with customers from 2027. The EPS cuts are smaller than the net profit cuts, as we factor in share buybacks.

We lower the target EV/EBITDA multiples for the power battery business in our H-share valuation and the ESS business in our A-share valuation to 17x (from 18x) and 15x (from 16x), respectively, reflecting the revised growth outlook relative to peers. Our revised 12-month A/H-share target prices of Rmb507/HK$777 (from Rmb559/HK$859 previously) are approximately 10% below our previous targets but still imply c.90% upside for both. We maintain our Buy (on CL).

Investment Thesis, Price Target Risks and Methodology

Investment Thesis - CATL

CATL is the world's largest battery manufacturer, underpinned by leading scale, battery technology, and cost competitiveness. Its EV battery business remains a solid earnings anchor, supported by structurally expanding demand and a more resilient market-share trajectory following its recent share recovery. More importantly, CATL's transition from cells to integrated energy solutions, supported by its battery expertise and strategic ecosystem build-out, should drive the next phase of value creation, as battery energy storage systems (BESS) integration enables share consolidation, higher project value capture, recurring service revenue, stronger margins, and a potential valuation re-rating. We are Buy rated on the H/A share.

Price Target Risks and Methodology - CATL

Valuation methodology: We apply a sum-of-the-parts framework to reflect CATL's distinct power battery and BESS growth profiles, BESS-led rerating potential, and ecosystem investments. For CATL-A, we value power batteries at 11x 2027E EBITDA and BESS using a discounted 2030E EV/EBITDA approach with a 15x exit multiple (discounted at 9.5%). For CATL-H, we use a global framework, valuing power batteries at 17x 2027E EV/EBITDA and BESS at a 20x 2030E exit multiple, reflecting CATL's superior ROIC, global leadership, and scarcity value. This yields 12-month TPs of HK$777.0/Rmb507.0 (H/A) and implies a 41% H-share premium versus A-share.

Key risks: 1) slower-than-expected global EV demand growth; 2) weaker-than-expected global ESS demand growth; 3) an unexpected rise in raw material costs, mainly battery metals; 4) slower-than-expected progress in BESS integration; 5) execution and trade-policy risks in overseas expansion; 6) more intense-than-expected competition in power and ESS batteries.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are removed pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs' involvement in a transaction, and in certain other circumstances. Early-Stage Biotech (ES). An investment rating and a target price are not assigned pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when this company has neither a drug, treatment or medical device that has passed a Phase II clinical trial nor a license to distribute a post-Phase II drug, treatment or medical device. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company.
