2Q26: Short-term and long-term levers for pricing become more clear

CRWV

12m Price Target: $139.00

Price: $90.87

Upside: 53.0%

CoreWeave was up 19% on August 12 after reporting revenue in line with the Street and EBIT margins 200bps above (Visible Alpha). 2026 revenue guidance is 1% above the Street, 4Q ARR 3% above, margins 40bps above, and capex 11% above. In our view, the stock reaction is a function of three themes: 1) demand continues to outpace available supply; 2) pricing remains firm across new and legacy GPU generations; and 3) margins have a credible path higher as new capacity deployments come online against a larger installed based.

- Demand remains robust, with revenue backlog at $104B (+5% qoq), a more muted quarterly add than previous quarters, though with momentum exiting the quarter with an additional $25bn+ of commitments signed in early 3Q. On pricing, newer chip generations (Blackwell, Vera Rubin) are setting new highs; while pricing for older generations remains at or above levels seen roughly a year ago; and a recent signed A100 contract that extends into 2029. Near-term capacity remains effectively sold out, and contracts signed in 2Q carried contribution margins 5-10% higher than recent contracts (CoreWeave targets mid-20s contribution margins). Beyond the headline backlog growth, we view the growing enterprise mix (Caterpillar, IBM, Nissan, and ZF) as a notable positive.
- Capacity remains on track: Active power reached 1.5GW+ (up from 1GW in 1Q), and contracted power reached 3.7GW at quarter end (up from 3.5GW) and 4.2GW as of 8/11/26. Management increased FY26 active power targets to 1.85GW+ (up from 1.7GW), while reiterating confidence in its 8GW+ 2030 target (supported by 4.2GW of contracted power, and an additional >1.5GW of powered land options, with the first

- Monetization of margin accretive software offerings in focus. CoreWeave's managed inference has scaled booked ARR from $1mn to $100mn+ in months, and management expects to exit 2026 with $250mn of managed inference ARR (with growth constrained by capacity). Beyond inference, higher margin platform services (CPU, storage, networking, and software offerings) exceed $400mn of ARR and are expected to scale as customers consolidate spend onto the platform. Longer term, CoreWeave Omni (which allows customers to deploy CoreWeave's cloud stack in their own data centers with their own GPUs) signed its first deal, with revenue expected to begin scaling in 2027. While still early, Omni represents another avenue for high-margin monetization beyond core infrastructure offerings.

We continue to view CoreWeave as one of the strongest positioned AI infrastructure providers. This quarter offered further evidence that demand remains ahead of supply, pricing remains resilient, and capacity expansion remains on track. We are also increasingly constructive on the opportunity for higher-margin software monetization; while these initiatives remain early, we believe they represent an important area to watch as investors assess CoreWeave's ability to increase monetization of its installed infrastructure and drive higher ARR per MW. We maintain a Neutral rating and look for additional proof points that software and platform services can become a more meaningful contributor to growth and margins over time.

We update our FY26/27/28 estimates following CoreWeave's 10Q release, and driven by updated management guidance. Our FY26/27/28 revenue estimates go to $13.0bn/$27.2bn/$44.2bn (from $12.9bn/$26.5bn/$38.0bn) and our capex estimates to $39.1bn/$57.0bn/$58.5bn (from $35.0bn/$41.7bn/$43.0bn).

We remain Neutral rated and adjust our 12-month price target to $139 (from $121) based on 22x EV/EBIT to CoreWeave's SNTM non-GAAP EBIT (from 24x on lower peer multiples). Our PT implies 17x on 2028 EBIT (maintained).

Key risks include: upside: rapid adoption of AI that supports demand for AI that continues to outpace supply, continued technical differentiation through future generations of GPUs, faster-than-expected path to positive FCF, stronger-than-expected demand for CoreWeave's broader suite of software solutions; downside: a reduction in overall demand for GenAI compute, increased competition from hyperscalers and neoclouds, disruptions to the procurement of data center equipment, difficulties raising additional financing at competitive rates.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at <https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html>.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are removed pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs' involvement in a transaction, and in certain other circumstances. Early-Stage Biotech (ES). An investment rating and a target price are not assigned pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when this company has neither a drug, treatment or medical device that has passed a Phase II clinical trial nor a license to distribute a post-Phase II drug, treatment or medical device. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company.
