

Advantest (6857.T): Conf. call: Demand firm for both SoCs and memory, high expectations for earnings growth as capacity increases; Neutral

We hosted a conference call with Advantest's IR team on the morning of August 26. We summarize the main points below, namely regarding SoC tester demand, memory tester demand, and production capacity. Company commentary reaffirmed that tester demand is expanding across a wide range of applications on the back of growing demand for inference AI tools, and that Advantest's positioning is robust, especially in SoC testers, including for CPU applications. On the other hand, the stock does not appear undervalued to us given the share price increase in the wake of 1Q3/27 results. We currently see little likelihood of Advantest's earnings growth from FY3/28 onward standing out as particularly high within our coverage, and we maintain our Neutral rating.

SoC tester demand

SoC tester demand remains strong for applications in ASICs/CPUs/GPUs, reflecting growth in inference AI tools. Compared to the CY26 TAM outlook as of April, the outlook for GPU applications has not changed considerably (partly because strong demand was already factored in), but ASIC and CPU applications are up and driving an upward revision to the TAM. The ASIC product growth outlook in particular has been raised, with the company indicating the TAM for ASIC testers could exceed that for GPU testers as early as 2H3/27 to FY3/28. Advantest's market share for SoC testers is on an uptrend owing to its broad product lineup and an expanding customer base, with a share of over 70% now coming into view, versus 66% in CY25. By device, the company said that while competitors have a certain presence in ASIC testers compared to GPU testers (where it commands a high share), its share in CPU testers is as high as that for GPU testers. While burn-in tests and die-level tests are still undergoing evaluations by customers, Advantest reiterated its view that the timing of sales contributions will be 2H3/27 to FY3/28 at the earliest.

Memory tester demand

In memory testers, as with SoCs, demand related not only to HBM but also general-purpose DRAM (DDR, GDDR, LPDDR) and NAND is increasing in tandem with the expansion of AI demand, leading to an upward revision to the TAM compared with the April outlook. Regarding tester demand for DRAM, testing complexity increases with each HBM generation due to higher transistor counts, power, and speed, leading to growth in tester demand. Furthermore, demand for final testing in back-end processes, where Advantest has a strong competitive advantage, is also on an expanding trend alongside the growing demand for general-purpose DRAM. As for the potential impact on tester demand from lower stacking in HBM, the company said there is no particular impact at present (tester demand tends to fluctuate depending on yields), but because compatibility with other devices integrated into advanced packages is required, the need to improve pre-packaging yields coupled with a rise in post-packaging test content is supporting tester demand.

Production capacity and FY3/27 earnings

Regarding SoC tester production capacity, Advantest expects to reach its previous target of at least 5,000 units per year by end-FY3/27 sooner than anticipated, and it is also on pace to reach its target of 10,000 units, previously envisioned for end-CY28 or early CY29, ahead of schedule (the company did not say by how much). While the procurement hurdle is not low because each tester requires more than 1 million components, the company is striving to expand production capacity in stages by broadening its supplier base and concluding long-term contracts for components. Advantest also indicated that while it raised full-year guidance at the time of 1Q results, it always maintains a certain buffer from a production capacity perspective, securing a certain degree of upward elasticity in the event that tester demand beats assumptions.

Price Target Risks and Methodology – Advantest

Valuation methodology: Our 12-month target price of ¥43,000 is based on the global SPE sector average EV/EBITDA of 18X (to which we add a 40% sector-relative premium) and our FY3/28E EBITDA estimates (our TP implies FY3/28E P/E of 36X and P/B of 19X).

Key risks: Market share fluctuations, fluctuations in customer capex appetite, trends in tester demand for China, USD/JPY fluctuations.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at <https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html>.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are removed pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs' involvement in a transaction, and in certain other circumstances. Early-Stage Biotech (ES). An investment rating and a target price are not assigned pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when this company has neither a drug, treatment or medical device that has passed a Phase II clinical trial nor a license to distribute a post-Phase II drug, treatment or medical device. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company.
