Rohm's 1Q operating profits, released after the August 5 close, came to ¥9.6 bn, exceeding our estimate of ¥6.1 bn. Full-year guidance was left unchanged at ¥30 bn (assuming ¥153.53/USD). Key takeaways from the results are as follows. (1) Overall view: 1Q operating profits were around double the company's expectations. This was attributed to factors such as improved SiC profitability, the effect of price hikes, and the effect of structural reforms. From 2Q onward, while this will depend on the rate of change in company-wide sales (flat qoq if risks are considered, or an increase qoq if risks do not materialize), profits are expected to recover exponentially as the effects of higher utilization rates, price hikes, and structural reforms become even more pronounced in 2H. (2) AI/server-related business: 1Q sales rose 67% yoy (we estimate to around ¥6.5 bn). The annual plan of ¥25.0 bn is on track to potentially exceed ¥30.0 bn. The company has received orders exceeding its production capacity and is working to increase capacity. (3) SiC: 1Q sales were up 53% yoy (we estimate to over ¥10 bn). Yield improvements are also progressing, and profitability is set to improve further. Demand for AI/server applications is strong. (4) Pricing strategy: Competitors are also moving to raise prices, and the company plans to step up its efforts beyond current negotiations (both passing on material costs and raising prices due to tightening market conditions). (5) Restructuring: Due diligence is underway for the planned integration of Toshiba's semiconductor business. Even if an agreement were to be reached, it would take time to clear antitrust laws, and any impact on earnings would be expected from FY3/28 at the earliest. Discussions are also underway in parallel for a potential integration with Mitsubishi Electric's power semiconductor business.

In conclusion, the results were generally positive, with a 1Q earnings beat, the potential for an accelerated earnings recovery from 2Q onward, and strong demand growth for AI/server applications including SiC. We believe there is a high probability

Rohm

Investment Thesis - Rohm

Rohm is a semiconductor device supplier, based in Kyoto. It produces semiconductor products, mainly analog semiconductors and power semiconductors, and passive components such as resistors. Its main segments are LSI and semiconductor devices. In the Silicon Carbide (SiC) power semiconductor business within its semiconductor devices segment, the company recorded a substantial impairment loss against the backdrop of a slowdown in the global EV market and intensifying competition in China. However, we see a growing possibility that capacity originally intended for EVs could be utilized for AI servers in the future. Consequently, we believe it has become easier to envision a scenario where the SiC business transitions to profitability. Regarding its collaboration with Toshiba, while some uncertainty remains regarding the scheme with Mitsubishi Electric newly joining the partnership, we view this as a positive development for future earnings and competitiveness. Furthermore, while we do not hold a view on the value of Rohm's stake in Toshiba, we highlight increased investor attention in the holding as an investment that enhances Rohm's market value. Overall, we are Buy-rated on the stock, expecting that Rohm on a standalone basis, the reorganized Rohm, and the value of its Toshiba shareholding will collectively move the stock's positioning closer to an AI-related name.

Price Target Risks and Methodology - Rohm

We are Buy-rated on Rohm. Our 12-month target price of ¥6,600 is based on FY3/29E EV/GCI vs. CROCI/WACC, applying a 20% premium to the sector-average EV/DACF multiple of 10X (our TP implies FY3/29E P/E of 24X). Key risks include further increases in precious metal prices, delays in business portfolio transformation, uncertainty surrounding potential reorganization and integration schemes, fluctuations in the market valuation of Toshiba shares.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock’s total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region’s Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts’ investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at <https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html>.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are removed pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs' involvement in a transaction, and in certain other circumstances. Early-Stage Biotech (ES). An investment rating and a target price are not assigned pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when this company has neither a drug, treatment or medical device that has passed a Phase II clinical trial nor a license to distribute a post-Phase II drug, treatment or medical device. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company.
