CITI'S TAKE

Taiwan technology supply chain concluded a robust 3Q26 revenue. Other than solid momentum in foundry, OSAT and testing interface/equipment, we see accelerating revenue growth for substrate and CCL makers. Server ODMs are also benefiting from new Rubin system and ASIC rack ramping. Heading into 3Q26 earnings season, we expect companies to provide better visibility and outlook into 4Q26 and 2027. We expect TSMC's earnings call to be an important indicator and catalyst for AI supply chain into next year (see our TSMC preview note).

Semiconductor foundry and OSAT- On the back of strong AI compute demand, TSMC and ASEH reported solid 18% and 28% QoQ revenue growth, respectively, in 3Q26. We believe there is a great chance that TSMC beats its full year guidance and delivers mid-40% YoY growth for 2026, and we expect more upside for ASEH's leap business outlook into next year. For trailing edge foundry, we believe the high UTR will support better GM recovery; VIS may see more revenue and GM upside on its interposer business outsourcing from TSMC.

On testing interface and equipment, we expect the rising chip complexity and testing process to persist. Both Chroma and Hon Precision posted stronger than expected Sep and 3Q26 revenue. With smooth capacity ramp for Hon, we see sequential QoQ sales growth momentum into next year. MPI and Winway are also ahead of consensus on 3Q26 revenue while WinWay's MoM decline in Sep was mainly driven by lower probe card revenues as major project shipments have temporarily wrapped up. We expect Rubin Ultra's expandable scale-up CPO rack design to be the next catalyst for CPO testing sector into late 2026/early 2027.

IC fabless - ASIC momentum picking up – Thanks to ARM-based CPU and Trainium 3 momentum pickup respectively at GUC and Alchip, both companies' 3Q26 revenues are ahead of consensus estimate with 35%/243% QoQ growth, respectively. We believe the robust order flow will continue into 4Q26/2027. We see multiple growth on GUC's CPU shipment growth into next year thanks to agentic AI demand and Alchip's Trainium chip ramping up into next year also on track. On Mediatek, 3Q26 revenue is ahead of company's guidance and Street's estimate thanks to its market share gain in smartphone, and we expect TPU to start contributing in 4Q26. We expect Mediatek to further lift its AI ASIC business opportunity thanks to solid product pipeline in the next 2 years (see our recent report on Mediatek).

PCB and substrate- 3Q26 was a strong quarter for substrate and CCL sectors, with demand continuously piling up. Unimicron posted +23% QoQ sales growth in 3Q26, beating Citi/consensus forecasts by 4%/6%. We expect 4Q26E ABF sales momentum to be even stronger vs 3Q considering all the AI chips ramping up together. CCL names also saw strong momentum across the board thanks to enhanced product mix and benefit from price hike in 2Q26. We expect CCL sector to see another round of price hikes from Nov onwards. For PCB, GCE's Sept sales were impacted by flooding in Thailand, which led to logistics disruption, while Tripod posted record monthly sales backed by memory demand and early pull-in before China Golden Week. With TPCA Show coming next week, we think substrate/CCL/PCB sectors might see some event catalysts in the near term. However, from a fundamental perspective, we still prefer substrate (Unimicron>NYPCB>Kinsus) > CCL (EMC>TUC) > PCB.

PC/NB Supply chain - For NB ODMs, overall NB shipments see MoM increase in Sep (+32% MoM) due to the quarter end inventory build; combined 3Q NB shipments were down 17% QoQ due to the early pull-in in 1H. We forecast 4Q26E NB shipments to further decline -7% QoQ/-28% YoY given the muted demand on rising retails prices and the increasing constraint in components procurement, While the price hike effect in the NB products should partially offset shipment decline, we expect increasing margins dilution impact to the NB ODM supply chains.

For lens components - Largan reported relatively muted sales results in Sep at NT$5,779m (+15% MoM/-7% YoY); combined 3Q revenues are below market estimates while Genius' 3Q revenues were slightly better than expectation. Despite the near-term sales performance, we see more upside opportunity coming from their new development in optical business in the longer term. We expect Genius' project with a leading US company on optical connector and ferrule to start shipment in 1H27. For Largan, we expect it to benefit most from FA/FAU for CPO market. We see its current engagement with the leading US client progressing smoothly, as evidenced by its continued new land expansion for future capacity build-out (see our recent report).

Thermal – Sep-26 sales as reported by thermal players (AVC & Auras) were up from Aug at +6% MoM/+42% YoY. While AVC delivered another record month thanks to solid ASIC demand and initial Vera Rubin shipments, Auras experienced MoM decline due to client deferring pull-ins and Thailand flooding. Going forward, we preliminarily expect both companies to see sequential revenue growth in 4Q26E, driven by the AWS Trainium transition from air to liquid cooling, ramp-up of the TPU and Vera Rubin projects.

Power – Delta reported MoM revenue recovery in Sep-26 (+1% MoM/+14% YoY), with power electronics down 4% MoM. 3Q26 revenues were up 8% QoQ but below our and Street's expectation. We expect Delta to regain momentum with double-digit QoQ growth in 4Q26E as ±400V enters the initial transition period, while in the long term, HVDC is still progressing gradually while Delta maintains its technology leadership. For BBU, we see Sep sales showing mixed momentum yet resilient BBU demand remains intact. Dynapack's Sep-26 sales declined 34% y/y and 54% m/m to NT$776mn, reflecting 1) weaker PC shipments amid quarter-end inventory adjustments and 2) deferred shipments of one BBU product, broadly consistent with the near-term weakness flagged in our Aug-26 sales note. We expect a meaningful sales rebound from Oct helped by shipments of new higher-power BBU products. Meanwhile, AES maintained solid momentum with Sep-26 sales rising 25% y/y (+1% m/m), suggesting resilient underlying BBU demand. Similarly, STL (4931.TWO; not covered) delivered robust 176% y/y growth, further reinforcing our positive view on the sector. We retain our constructive stance on BBU names, supported by sustained demand and upcoming product ramps

Passive components - Yageo reported trended up monthly sales in Sep-26, as demand in Europe and US recovered after the summer holiday, on top of sustained AI demand. 3Q26 revenues were slightly above cons forecasts. Current quarter top line still beats mgmt.'s "moderate growth" guidance. We believe that growth was again broad-based across commodity and specialty products, and driven by both volume and price. We expect a more visible ASP uplift in 4Q26E as specialty and contract-based business could slow vs the spot and distributor channels.

Analysts' compensation is determined by Citi Research management and Citigroup's senior management and is based upon activities and services intended to benefit the investor clients of Citigroup Global Markets Inc. and its affiliates (the "Firm"). Compensation is not linked to specific transactions or recommendations. Like all Firm employees, analysts receive compensation that is impacted by overall Firm profitability which includes investment banking, sales and trading, and principal trading revenues. One factor in equity research analyst compensation is arranging corporate access events between institutional clients and the management teams of covered companies. Typically, company management is more likely to participate when the analyst has a positive view of the company.

For financial instruments recommended in the Product in which the Firm is not a market maker, the Firm is a liquidity provider in such financial instruments (and any underlying instruments) and may act as principal in connection with transactions in such instruments. The Firm is a regular issuer of traded financial instruments linked to securities that may have been recommended in the Product. The Firm regularly trades in the securities of the issuer(s) discussed in the Product. The Firm may engage in securities transactions in a manner inconsistent with the Product and, with respect to securities covered by the Product, will buy or sell from customers on a principal basis.

Unless stated otherwise neither the Research Analyst nor any member of their team has viewed the material operations of the Companies for which an investment view has been provided within the past 12 months.

Guide to Citi Research Fundamental Research Investment Ratings:
Citi Research stock recommendations include an investment rating and an optional risk rating to highlight high risk stocks.
Risk rating takes into account both price volatility and fundamental criteria. Stocks will either have no risk rating or a High risk rating assigned.
Investment Ratings: Citi Research investment ratings are Buy, Neutral and Sell. Our ratings are a function of analyst expectations of expected total return ("ETR") and risk. ETR is the sum of the forecast price appreciation (or depreciation) plus the dividend yield for a stock within the next 12 months. The target price is based on a 12 month time horizon. The Investment rating definitions are: Buy (1) ETR of 15% or more or 25% or more for High risk stocks; and Sell (3) for negative ETR. Any covered stock not assigned a Buy or a Sell is a Neutral (2). For stocks rated Neutral (2), if an analyst believes that there are insufficient valuation drivers and/or investment catalysts to derive a positive or negative investment view, they may elect with the approval of Citi Research management not to assign a target price and, thus, not derive an ETR. Citi Research may suspend its rating and target price and assign "Rating Suspended" status for regulatory and/or internal policy reasons. Citi Research may also suspend its rating and target price and assign "Under Review" status for other exceptional circumstances (e.g. lack of information critical to the analyst's thesis, trading suspension) affecting the company and/or trading in the company's securities. In both such situations, the rating and target price will show as "—" and "-" respectively in the rating history price chart. Prior to 11 April 2022 Citi Research assigned "Under Review" status to both situations and prior to 11 Nov 2020 only in exceptional circumstances. As soon as practically possible, the analyst will publish a note re-establishing a rating and investment thesis. Investment ratings are determined by the ranges described above at the time of initiation of coverage, a change in investment and/or risk rating, or a change in target price (subject to limited management discretion). At times, the expected total returns may fall outside of these ranges because of market price movements and/or other short-term volatility or trading patterns. Such interim deviations will be permitted but will become subject to review by Research Management. Your decision to buy or sell a security should be based upon your personal investment objectives and should be made only after evaluating the stock's expected performance and risk.

Catalyst Watch/Short Term Views ("STV") Ratings Disclosure:
Catalyst Watch and STV Upside/Downside calls: Citi Research may also include a Catalyst Watch or STV Upside or Downside call to indicate the analyst expects the share price to rise (fall) in absolute terms over a specified period of 30 or 90 days in reaction to one or more specific near-term catalysts or events impacting the company or the market. A Catalyst Watch will be published when Analyst confidence is high that an impact to share price will occur; it will be a STV when confidence level is moderate. A Catalyst Watch or STV Upside/Downside call will automatically expire at the end of the specified 30/90 day period. The Catalyst Watch will also be automatically removed if share price performance (calculated at market close) exceeds 15% against the direction of the call (unless over-ridden by the analyst). The analyst may also remove a Catalyst Watch or STV call prior to the end of the specified period in a published research note. A Catalyst Watch/STV Upside or Downside call may be different from and does not affect a stock's fundamental equity rating, which reflects a longer-term total absolute return expectation. For purposes of FINRA ratings-distribution-disclosure rules, a Catalyst Watch/STV Upside call corresponds to a buy recommendation and a Catalyst Watch/STV Downside call corresponds to a sell recommendation. Any stock not assigned to a Catalyst Watch Upside, Catalyst Watch Downside, STV Upside, or STV Downside call is considered Catalyst Watch/STV No View. For purposes of FINRA ratings distribution-disclosure rules, we correspond Catalyst Watch/STV No View to Hold in our ratings distribution table for our Catalyst Watch/STV Upside/Downside rating system. However, we reiterate that we do not consider No View to be a recommendation. For all Catalyst Watch/STV Upside/Downside calls, risk exists that the catalyst(s) and associated share-price movement will not materialize as expected.

A description of these policies can be found at https://www.citivelocity.com/cvr/eppublic/citi_research_disclosures.

The proportion of all Citi Research research recommendations that were the equivalent to "Buy","Hold","Sell" at the end of each quarter over the prior 12 months (with the % of these that had received investment firm services from Citi in the prior 12 months shown in brackets) is as follows; Q2 2026 Buy 33%(63%), Hold 44% (51%), Sell 23% (49%), RV 0.5% (87%): Q1 2026 Buy 33% (63%), Hold 44% (52%), Sell 23% (46%), RV 0.5% (89%); Q4 2025 Buy 33% (63%), Hold 44% (50%), Sell 23% (46%), RV 0.4% (91%); Q3 2025 Buy 33%(61%), Hold 44% (52%), Sell 23% (50%), RV 0.4% (80%). For the purposes of disclosing recommendations other than for equity (whose definitions can be found in the corresponding disclosure sections), "Buy" means a positive directional trade idea; "Sell" means a negative directional trade idea; and "Relative Value" means any trade idea which does not have a clear direction to the investment strategy.

Citi Research broadly and simultaneously disseminates its research content to the Firm’s institutional and retail clients via the Firm’s proprietary electronic distribution platforms (e.g., Citi Velocity and various Global Wealth platforms). As a convenience, certain, but not all, research content may be distributed through third party aggregators. Clients may receive published research reports by email, on a discretionary basis, and only after such research content has been broadly disseminated. Certain research is made available only to institutional investors to satisfy regulatory requirements. The level and types of services provided by Citi Research analysts to clients may vary depending on various factors such as the client’s individual preferences as to the frequency and manner of receiving communications from analysts, the client’s risk profile and investment focus and perspective (e.g. market-wide, sector specific, long term, short-term etc.), the size and scope of the overall client relationship with the Firm and legal and regulatory constraints.

Pursuant to Comissão de Valores Mobiliários Resolução 20 and ASIC Regulatory Guide 264, Citi is required to disclose whether a Citi related company or business has a commercial relationship with the subject company. Considering that Citi operates multiple businesses in more than 100 countries around the world, it is likely that Citi has a commercial relationship with the subject company.

Securities recommended, offered, or sold by the Firm: (i) are not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation; (ii) are not deposits or other obligations of any insured depository institution (including Citibank); and (iii) are subject to investment risks, including the possible loss of the principal amount invested. The Product is for informational purposes only and is not intended as an offer or solicitation for the purchase or sale of a security. Any decision to purchase securities mentioned in the Product must take into account existing public information on such security or any registered prospectus. Although information has been obtained from and is based upon sources that the Firm believes to be reliable, we do not guarantee its accuracy and it may be incomplete and condensed. Note, however, that the Firm has taken all reasonable steps to determine the accuracy and completeness of the disclosures made in the Important Disclosures section of the Product. The Firm's research department has received assistance from the subject company(ies) referred to in this Product including, but not limited to, discussions with management of the subject company(ies). Firm policy prohibits research analysts from sending draft research to subject companies. However, it should be presumed that the author of the Product has had discussions with the subject company to ensure factual accuracy prior to publication. Statements and views concerning ESG (environmental, social, governance) factors are typically based upon public statements made by the affected company or other public news, which the author may not have independently verified. ESG factors are one consideration that investors may choose to examine when making investment decisions. All opinions, projections and estimates constitute the judgment of the author as of the date of the Product and these, plus any other information contained in the Product, are subject to change without notice. Prices and availability of financial instruments also are subject to change without notice. Notwithstanding other departments within the Firm advising the companies discussed in this Product, information obtained in such role is not used in the preparation of the Product. Although Citi Research does not set a predetermined frequency for publication, if the Product is a fundamental equity or credit research report, it is the intention of Citi Research to provide research coverage of the covered issuers, including in response to news affecting the issuer. For non-fundamental research reports, Citi Research may not provide regular updates to the views, recommendations and facts included in the reports. Notwithstanding that Citi Research maintains coverage on, makes recommendations concerning or discusses issuers, Citi Research may be periodically restricted from referencing certain issuers due to legal or policy reasons. Where a component of a published trade idea is subject to a restriction, the trade idea will be removed from any list of open trade ideas included in the Product. Upon the lifting of the restriction, the trade idea will either be re-instated in the open trade ideas list if the analyst continues to support it or it will be officially closed. Citi Research may provide different research products and services to different classes of customers (for example, based upon long-term or short-term investment horizons) that may lead to differing conclusions or recommendations that could impact the price of a security contrary to the recommendations in the alternative research product, provided that each is consistent with the rating system for each respective product.

Investing in non-U.S. securities, including ADRs, may entail certain risks. The securities of non-U.S. issuers may not be registered with, nor be subject to the reporting requirements of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. There may be limited information available on foreign securities. Foreign companies are generally not subject to uniform audit and reporting standards, practices and requirements comparable to those in the U.S. Securities of some foreign companies may be less liquid and their prices more volatile than securities of comparable U.S. companies. In addition, exchange rate movements may have an adverse effect on the value of an investment in a foreign stock and its corresponding dividend payment for U.S. investors. Net dividends to ADR investors are estimated, using withholding tax rates conventions, deemed accurate, but investors are urged to consult their tax advisor for exact dividend computations. Investors who have received the Product from the Firm may be prohibited in certain states or other jurisdictions from purchasing securities mentioned in the Product from the Firm.
