

Stronger power lead frame outlook in 2H26-2027F

Heat spreader products the cherry on top; maintain Buy

We see further 2026/27F growth potential from power lead frame and heat spreader

Our recent industry channel checks suggests: 1) stronger power lead frame demand, especially from AI datacenter related in 2H26-2027F: As mentioned in our previous note, global integrated device manufacturers' (IDM) 3Q26E sales outlook continues to show strength (3Q26E weighted average revenue y-y of +17% / q-q of +7%, vs +18% / +11% in 2Q26; this implies the fifth quarter of y-y expansion since 3Q25). Specifically, a few of SDI's key IDM customers at their 2Q26 earnings calls raised 2026-27E AI datacenter revenue with stronger demand and faster capacity expansion (two customers' 2027E-related sales should double y-y, according to our channel checks). We expect SDI's 2027F power lead frame revenue from AI-related field to realize 134% y-y growth (15% of total sales vs 8% in 2026F), with 60 ongoing projects currently; and 2) favorable pricing and product mix leading to better 2026/27F margin profile: Given supply tightness across several end markets, we expect further pricing improvement for SDI in 2H26F, after two rounds of price hikes in 1H26. In addition, given stronger demand from auto and AI datacenter (with GM better than other end markets), we expect SDI's 2H26F/FY27F GM to reach 22.1%/23.0% vs 20.0% in 1H26.

2026-27F to mark the milestone of heat spreader business development

In addition to continued capacity expansion for power lead frame products, SDI's management has decided to add more stamping equipment (ranging from 100-ton, 200-ton, to 500-ton) in 2026-27E to handle increasing demand for its newly-developed product – heat spreader (including hat, cavity, ring/stiffener, and micro-channel lid, or MCL). The company will focus on automotive, ASIC/CPU, and networking in AI datacenter fields. Given superior manufacturing capability (20-30μ coplanarity vs 50-70μ of industrial average), it has secured four major orders from OSAT, auto, and IC design customers, with management expecting major revenue contribution from 2027E (we estimate 3%/7% of 2027/28F total sales). We believe there can be sales and earnings contribution upside once we are able to confirm more order receiving from higher-end products.

Raise 2026/27F EPS assumptions by 8%/17%; TP raised to TWD327

We raise 2026/27F sales and earnings growth (Fig. 1) with stronger order placing from global IDM customers, along with initial revenue contribution from heat spreader products. Our new TP of TWD327 is based on an unchanged multiple of 28x 2027F EPS of TWD11.68 (previously 28x 2H26-1H27F EPS of TWD8.96), vs SDI's historical average of 22.5x since 2015 (a range of 5.6x to 70.6x). The stock currently trades at 20x/16x 2027/28F EPS.

Company profile

SDI is a leading global semiconductor lead frame supplier headquartered in Taiwan. The company is the largest power semiconductor lead frame manufacturer in the world, with its primary focus on automotive, industrial and AI applications.

Valuation Methodology

Our target price of TWD327 is based on 28x 2027F EPS of TWD11.68 vs historical average of 22.5x since 2015 with a range of 5.6x to 70.6x. The benchmark for this stock is TAIEX.

Risks that may impede the achievement of the target price

Downside risks: 1) slower-than-expected auto, industrial, and consumer electronic demand recovery, 2) delays of new products' mass production, 3) pricing competition from global peers, and 4) dramatic copper price drop in short periods, which should be a negative impact on SDI's near-term GM.

ESG

With the core philosophy of “sincerity, stability, challenge, and innovation,” SDI is dedicated to environmental protection, social responsibility, respecting human rights, and transparent corporate governance
