Sinocera reported 3Q26 results and held an analyst briefing on Oct 26. Net profit of Rmb183mn (+16% yoy) was 5% below GSe. Revenue rose 39% yoy, beating GSe by 19%, but softer GPM and higher SG&A left EBIT of Rmb222mn (+24% yoy) broadly in line (+1% vs. GSe). Management attributed the gap between revenue and profit growth mainly to one-off items: FX losses, share-based compensation and expenses relating to the SDI acquisition. Excluding these, 9M26 recurring NP growth would have been close to 40% yoy, versus reported growth of c.12%.

Management attributed revenue growth mainly to robust demand for traditional MLCC powder and customer restocking prompted by rare earth export controls, particularly for dental zirconia powder. The zirconia powder price hike announced in late July was not reflected in 3Q results and is expected to take effect gradually from 4Q26.

New-product n is progressing. Mass shipments of AI/auto-grade MLCC powder are expected to begin in 4Q26, reaching the low hundreds of tons in 2026 before a large-scale ramp-up in 2027. Sinocera is currently the sole volume supplier of PTFE-grade spherical silica, and the first 2k tons of its planned 5k-ton spherical silica capacity are expected to be completed by early 2027. TEC ceramic substrates have also passed validation with a US customer with large-batch orders expected by year-end.

Following 3Q26 results, we lower our 2026E EPS by 6% to reflect one-off items, while leaving our 2027E–28E EPS estimates largely unchanged. We maintain Neutral on valuation, with a revised 12-month TP of Rmb34.0.

Topline performance

3Q26 revenue of Rmb1.57bn (+39% yoy) beat GSe by 19%. SDI Limited, consolidated from July, contributed c.Rmb100mn.

Excluding SDI, revenue grew c.30% yoy, led by traditional electronic materials and bio-medical materials.

- Electronic materials:
  - MLCC powder: 9M26 shipments reached nearly 6k tons (+24% yoy), implying c.33% yoy volume growth in 3Q, supported by strong downstream demand. The 10k-ton traditional-product capacity was near full utilization by 3Q. Production at the newly added c.2k-ton high-end (AI/auto-grade) capacity will start in 4Q.
  - MLCC paste: 9M26 shipments reached c.300 tons (up over 70% yoy). The company is doubling capacity and expects shipment volume to double in 2027.
- Bio-medical materials: 9M26 revenue exceeded Rmb900mn (+36% yoy), implying c.60% yoy growth in 3Q. Growth was mainly volume-driven: dental zirconia powder shipments rose over 60% yoy in 9M26, with capacity near full utilization in 3Q. Management attributed this mainly to accelerated customer restocking, as rare earth export controls created supply uncertainty for Japanese peers. To capture this opportunity, the company has:
  - Raised prices: Sinocera announced a 10%–40% price hike in late July and negotiated pass-through with customers in Aug–Sep. Existing orders must be fulfilled first, so the increase was not reflected in 3Q results. Management expects it to take effect gradually from 4Q26.
  - Started expanding capacity: Zirconia powder capacity currently totals 6k tons across electronic and dental applications. A small-scale expansion has begun, while a larger expansion remains in planning.
- New energy materials: 9M26 revenue from traditional products (alumina and boehmite) rose over 50% yoy, implying c.40% growth in 3Q, driven by solid downstream Li-ion battery demand. Management noted that Sinocera is nearly the sole alumina supplier to some high-end customers.
- Catalyst materials: 9M26 honeycomb ceramic substrate shipments reached c.16mn liters (up in the teens yoy), below management's expectations, reflecting the weak domestic auto market and slow new-model launches during the China VI–VII transition. Management noted that Sinocera is the only domestic producer able to mass-supply all specifications across passenger vehicles, commercial vehicles, marine and off-road applications, and supplies all mainstream domestic passenger vehicle brands.
- Precision ceramics: 9M26 revenue exceeded Rmb300mn and was broadly flat yoy, implying low-teens growth in 3Q. Ceramic ball revenue declined slightly in 9M26 but returned to yoy and qoq growth in 3Q, as NEV makers resumed using ceramic balls for safety reasons from Jun/Jul. Japanese and other overseas customers are also actively engaging Sinocera amid yttria (rare earth) supply issues.

Profitability

- 3Q26 GPM of 36.8% (-0.1ppt yoy) was 0.5ppt below GSe. Construction ceramics remained the main drag: 9M26 segment GPM fell by teens ppt yoy to c.20% on higher cobalt oxide and praseodymium oxide costs. Prices have been adjusted since March, but pass-through to property-related customers has been slow. The dental zirconia powder price hike has yet to benefit margins; management expects a gradual contribution from 4Q26, with greater certainty around most of the increase by 1Q27.

- Opex of Rmb355mn (+49% yoy) was 30% above GSe, mainly due to higher-than-expected admin expenses (+127% yoy). EBIT margin of 14.2% (-1.6ppt yoy) missed GSe by 2.4ppt, while EBIT of Rmb222mn (+24% yoy) was broadly in line (+1% vs. GSe).
- Below EBIT, elevated FX losses were partly offset by higher-than-expected other gains. Net profit margin was 11.7% (-2.3ppt yoy), 2.9ppt below GSe, while NP of Rmb183mn (+16% yoy) missed GSe by 5%.
- Management highlighted three one-off items weighing on 9M26 earnings: 1) FX losses of over Rmb50mn, versus a gain in 9M25 (a yoy swing of over Rmb60mn); 2) c.Rmb50mn in share-based compensation; and 3) c.Rmb20mn in SDI acquisition fees. Excluding these, recurring NP growth would have been close to 40% yoy, versus reported growth of 12%.

Balance sheet and cash flow

- 3Q26 operating cash inflow fell 29% yoy to Rmb204mn, while capex doubled to Rmb208mn, resulting in negative FCF of Rmb4mn (vs. positive Rmb184mn in 3Q25 and Rmb39mn in 2Q26). Including Rmb776mn of cash outflow for the SDI Limited acquisition, Sinocera moved from net cash of Rmb148mn at end-2Q26 to net debt of Rmb726mn at end-3Q26.
- Capex outlook: Annual capex has historically been below Rmb500mn. Management expects it to rise to Rmb0.5–1.0bn annually, potentially exceeding Rmb1bn, over the next 2–3 years, as MLCC powder, zirconia, ceramic substrate and spherical silica capacity expand concurrently.

New products

- AI/auto-grade MLCC powder:
  - Of the planned 5k-ton high-end capacity, 2k tons have been completed, with another 2–3k tons under expansion. Several domestic and overseas customers have completed validation and provided relatively clear order guidance.
  - Management expects mass shipments to begin in 4Q26, reaching the low hundreds of tons in 2026 before a large-scale ramp-up in 2027. Strong MLCC demand should support a fast ramp-up once commercial supply begins.
- Spherical silica powder:
  - AI-driven demand for high-end CCL (M8, M9 and above) is increasing silica filler content from teens% for M6 to over 30% for M9 and up to 60% for PTFE solutions. Management noted that validation is progressing smoothly with major Mainland China and Taiwan CCL makers. Sinocera is currently the sole volume supplier of spherical silica for PTFE solutions.

- Management remains optimistic but provided no specific 2027 volume or pricing guidance. A PTFE ramp-up in 2027 could offer significant upside, while M7–M9 product introductions continue to progress smoothly.
- The first 2k tons of the planned 5k-ton capacity are expected to be completed by early 2027.

- Ceramic substrates:
  - TEC ceramic substrates, mainly used for HBM and CPU cooling, have passed validation with a US customer and entered volume sales, with CPU orders ramping faster. Management noted that the customer estimates a long-term market of several billion USD. Sinocera is the sole supplier working closely with this customer, with no other supplier expected to qualify in the near term. Capacity is being prepared ahead of large-batch orders expected by year-end.
  - Multilayer ceramic boards for PCB are being jointly developed with the end customer and PCB makers, with validation targeted for completion by year-end. Preliminary customer demand guidance for next year is informing capacity planning.
- Solid-state battery electrolyte: The product passed key customer validation in 1H26. A completed 60-ton production line has begun phased customer supply. Management is working with customers to ramp up capacity and mass production, while engaging potential customers in the US and Korea.

Investment Thesis - Sinocera Functional Material

Sinocera is China's leading supplier of fine ceramic materials, with unique exposure to end-markets and products (e.g., electronic, catalytic, new energy and bio-medical materials) where we see structural growth opportunities with import substitution potential - offering Sinocera a long growth runway for the next decade. With a proven track record of expanding TAM through organic R&D development and M&A, we expect Sinocera to revert to its fast earnings growth trajectory in the medium-to-long-term, especially on the back of Sinocera's encouraging developments in new products that could allow the company to capitalize the emerging technology megatrends (e.g. AI, solid-state batteries, AR/VR, etc.). We are Neutral rated on the stock as we believe current valuation seems to have largely reflected the long-term growth potential. Key risks: 1) Slower/faster-than-expected ceramic powder market share expansion by Sinocera; 2) Slower/faster-than-expected expansion of its new businesses; 3) Slower/faster-than-expected end-market growth.

Price Target Risks and Methodology - Sinocera Functional Material

Valuation: We base our 12-month target price of Rmb34.0 on a 25x 2030E P/E discounted back to end-2027E using a 10.0% COE. Our exit multiple of 25x is derived based on the weighted average 10-year mid-cycle P/E of the key global players for Sinocera's end-markets.

Key risks: 1) Slower/faster-than-expected ceramic powder market share expansion by Sinocera; 2) Slower/faster-than-expected expansion of its new businesses; 3) Slower/faster-than-expected end-market growth.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are removed pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs' involvement in a transaction, and in certain other circumstances. Early-Stage Biotech (ES). An investment rating and a target price are not assigned pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when this company has neither a drug, treatment or medical device that has passed a Phase II clinical trial nor a license to distribute a post-Phase II drug, treatment or medical device. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company.
