3Q26 OP inline likely led by strong memory margins and robust HBM business

Samsung Electronics (SEC) released its 3Q26 pre-earnings guidance before the market open on October 8, where OP of W107.4tn was inline with both GSe and Bloomberg consensus estimate of ~W106tn. Based on recent conversations with investors, recent expectations were declining to a sub-W105tn level, hence the headline OP was likely a slight beat compared to the latest estimates. While the company will likely provide more details during the earnings call on October 29, we believe the memory profit was slightly better-than-expected from strong DRAM and NAND margins and robust growth in HBM revenue, while smartphone loss was likely better-than-feared due to favorable product mix toward high-end smartphones.

We remain constructive on SEC with our incrementally positive view on both conventional memory and HBM pricing for next year, in addition to the shareholder return upside for the name. The shares are now trading at 3.5X P/E and 1.5X P/B (54% ROE) on 2027E numbers, which we believe offers attractive risk/reward, and we reiterate our Buy rating (on CL) with a slightly higher TP of W500,000 (from W490,000).

Quick take on major segments

For memory, we believe both DRAM and NAND bit shipment growth during the quarter were slightly lower than the company's guidance and our previous estimates, likely due to the limited supply and low level of memory inventory we believe the company is holding. We believe the company's HBM bit shipment grew by close to 50% qoq on the back of the strong shipment of HBM4, leading to quarterly revenue of US$5bn+ and similar to the annual HBM revenue it generated last year. With the continued supply tightness in the HBM market we expect and the company's strong positioning within, we once again raise our HBM blended ASP estimate for the company, now expecting above US$4.0/Gb (+159% yoy) for next year. As a result, we expect the company's HBM revenue to grow by 321% yoy to reach US$81bn (W110tn) next year from US$19bn this year, and HBM mix to reach 20% of DRAM revenue from 8% this year. We believe the company's DRAM and NAND OPM have reached low-80%/high-60% level respectively during the quarter, based on our estimate that blended ASP rose by mid-teens%/high-teens% qoq, respectively.

For foundry/LSI, we believe operating loss was slightly worse than expected due to the labor cost provisioning, however the core fundamentals continue to improve especially with the advanced node helped by the strong demand for 4nm base die production for HBM4.

For smartphones, we estimate the operating loss was better than feared, as the lower mix of low-end/mid-range smartphones likely led to better margin for the business and partially offset the headwind from the increasing memory cost.

Key points to watch on the 3Q26 earnings call

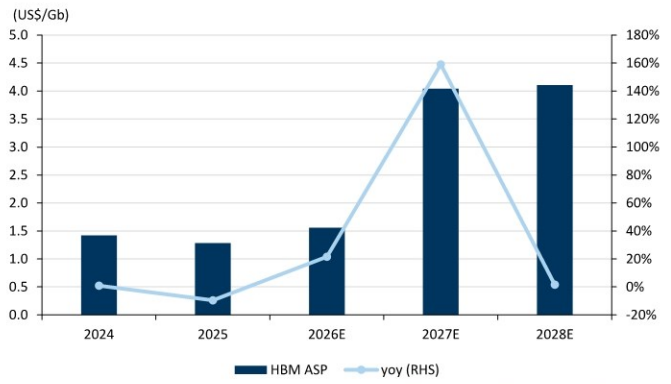

We believe the key points to watch for on SEC's 3Q26 earnings call will include: 1) whether the company calls for a tighter memory supply in 2028 similar to Micron, 2) disclosures on additional LTAs with customers including LTA coverage ratio, duration of contracts, pricing structures, prepayment portion, etc., 3) HBM4 ramp-up progress, view on HBM despeccing and potential impact, 4) updated capex outlook, 5) foundry utilization rate, level of tightness in advanced node, and capacity expansion plans especially for HBM base dies, and 6) updates on shareholder return including the mix between buyback/cancellations and dividends, and new shareholder return policy starting 2027 (although we believe current consensus expectations is for these updates to be provided at the 4Q26 earnings call in January 2027).

Raise earnings estimates and TP to W500K; reiterate Buy

Mainly reflecting 3Q26 pre-earnings guidance, higher HBM pricing estimates, and higher DRAM profit estimates more than offsetting lower smartphone profit estimates, we raise our 2026E/2027E/2028E EPS estimates by 0.3%/2.2%/0.1%. Our SOTP-based 12m TP rises to W500,000 (from W490,000), and we remain Buy-rated on the name (on CL).

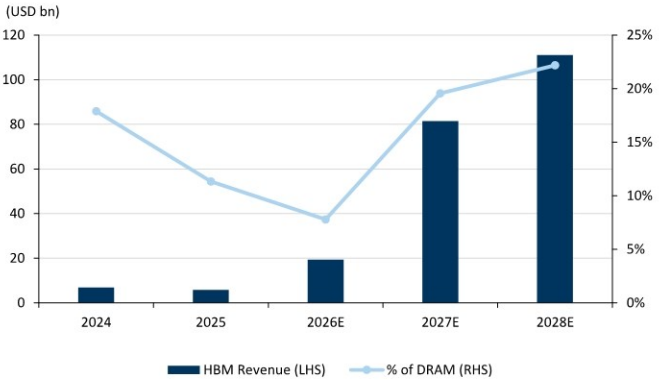

We also raise our 12m TP for the preference shares (005935.KS, Buy) to W380,000 (from W360,000), applying an updated pref-to-common discount of 24%, derived from average between 1) the pref discount of the 2-factor model, and 2) the 1-year historical average discount to common shares. Key risks include 1) major deterioration in memory supply/demand, 2) sharp contraction in smartphone margins, and 3) mobile OLED market share loss.

Price Target Risks and Methodology - Samsung Electronics

Valuation methodology: Our 12m 2026-2027E EV/EBITDA-based SOTP target price for the common share is W500,000. Our 12-month target price for the preference share is W380,000, applying an updated pref-to-common discount of 24%, derived from average between 1) the pref discount of the 2-factor model, and 2) the 1-year historical average discount to common shares. We are Buy rated on both the common and preference shares.

Key downside risks: 1) major deterioration in memory supply/demand, 2) sharp contraction in smartphone margins, and 3) mobile OLED market share loss.

Investment Thesis - Samsung Electronics

Samsung Electronics (SEC) is one of the largest tech companies in the world, with the #1 market share in several products including memory chips, OLED panels, smartphones, and TVs. We expect the strong earnings power led by memory to continue, supported by our expectation of solid memory pricing continuing and also remaining at an elevated level. We expect this to be helped by the long-term agreements (LTA) with customers, with a higher level of binding commitment likely this time compared to the past. The company is starting to show meaningful progress in HBM, and also considering the higher scope for meaningful shareholder returns, we remain constructive on the name and reiterate our Buy rating.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are removed pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs' involvement in a transaction, and in certain other circumstances. Early-Stage Biotech (ES). An investment rating and a target price are not assigned pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when this company has neither a drug, treatment or medical device that has passed a Phase II clinical trial nor a license to distribute a post-Phase II drug, treatment or medical device. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company.
