

Lead Intelligent (300450.SZ): 2Q26 results in line: Guiding sequential margin improvements; Buy on both A/H shares

Post market close on Aug 28, Lead Intelligent reported inline 2Q26 results. 2Q26 revenue/gross profit/EBIT/net income came in at Rmb4,498mn/Rmb1,376mn/Rmb445mn/Rmb551mn (+28%/+18%/+99%/+47% yoy), -1%/-10%/-28%/+2% vs. GSe; GPM/OPM/NPM was 31%/10%/12% (-2pp/+4pp/+2pp yoy), -3pp/-4pp/0pp vs. GSe. 1H26 revenue/net income reached Rmb8,189mn/Rmb956mn (+24%/+29% yoy), with OCF inflow of Rmb4.09bn (+74% yoy) on further improving cash collection. The GPM softness mainly reflected geopolitics-driven increases in ocean freight and raw material costs (overseas GPM -6pp yoy to 33.7% in 1H26), which the company offset through cost control and operating efficiency gains (2Q26 period SG&A expense ratio down to 17.8%), leaving NPM largely inline.

1H26 new orders reached c.Rmb18bn (+50%~60% yoy), with 2Q26 at c.Rmb9bn, or +38% yoy. Domestic/overseas lithium battery accounted for c.60%/c.20% of orders and consumer electronics at 10%. ESS and power battery are now split 50/50, with ESS gradually overtaking power battery demand. Mgmt expects FY26 order growth to well exceed the initial +30% yoy guidance, with 3Q26 QTD order intake tracking close to 1Q/2Q levels and order visibility already extending to August 2027 (c.1 year), underpinned by leading customers' 90%+ utilization and rising top-customer concentration. Looking into 2027, leading customers guide power battery demand growth of 30%-50% yoy and ESS of 50%+, pointing to sustained high growth in lithium orders.

Full solid-state battery (FSSB) orders are tracking towards c.3x growth in 2026, per mgmt. Several overseas customers have announced plans for scaled vehicle installation in 2027, with some also advancing FSSB development via humanoid robot applications. Domestic-wise, CATL's Yibin and BYD's Chongqing FSSB projects progressed in 1H26, targeting initial scaling production in 2H26.

New businesses (humanoid robots, SOFC, MLCC) are emerging as the new growth drivers. On humanoid robots, Lead intelligent partners with X-Humanoid (Beijing Humanoid Robot Innovation Center) to bring robots into lithium battery/solar/semiconductor industrial deployment, with initial orders and preparation potentially to land in 3Q26 and revenue contribution to follow. SOFC/MLCC core equipment shares technologies synergy derived from Lead's existing battery equipment platforms, but carrying better overall GPM than battery equipment, per the company. Both SOFC and MLCC businesses are guided to grow several-fold this year (on <Rmb100mn orders' low base in 2025).

Margin-wise, excluding the Rmb41mn FX loss, 2Q26 net profit growth would have reached c.80% yoy with NPM approaching 15%, as cost reduction and efficiency gains offset part of the FX and input cost pressure. GPM has been recovering in Jul-Aug and mgmt expects 3Q26 GPM to continue to recover with overseas GPM returning to 40%+. Overseas revenue has more than doubled in 1H26 (Rmb2.44bn, +111% yoy, c.30% of total), which should further lift blended GPM, thus mgmt guides NPM to recover towards 15%~16% level into the mid-term.

Earnings, TP revisions: We fine-tune our 2026E-30E net income by -2% to +0% to reflect the 2Q26 results and margin guidance. Accordingly, our 12-month TPs are tweaked to Rmb50.9/HK$46.4 for the A/H shares (vs. Rmb50.8/HK$46.3 previously), based on a 2027E P/E of 30x/24x (incorporating a 20% H-share discount to A-share). Investment Thesis, Price Target Risks and Methodology

Investment Thesis - Lead Intelligent-H

Lead Intelligent is a leading global manufacturer of battery equipment, focusing on the end markets for lithium-ion batteries, solar photovoltaics, 3C inspection equipment, warehouse & logistics systems, automobiles, and fuel cells. The company holds a significant market position, with a c.25% global market share in intelligent lithium-ion battery equipment. We expect the company to see rising exposure (c.80%) to battery capex, supported by a healthy customer profile and key trends, including: 1) the acceleration of energy storage systems (ESS), with their contribution rising to c.40% of total battery orders between 2026E and 2030E; 2) Lead Intelligent's further concentration among Tier 1 battery OEMs; and 3) sodium battery and full solid-state batteries (FSSB) offering high growth potential over the long term despite the current small base. For the remaining 20% business exposure, Lead Intelligent is also actively building second growth curve narratives with breakthroughs in 3C consumer electronics equipment and humanoid business initiatives. We forecast 28%/34% revenue/net profit CAGRs over 2026E-30E, with profitability recovering as margins normalize from a 2.7%/10.8% NPM trough in 2024/2025 (due to the battery downcycle and AR deterioration) to 14.5% by 2030E. We apply a 2027E P/E multiple of 30X for Lead Intelligent-A, and a 20% H/A-share discount for Lead Intelligent-H, resulting in a 2027E P/E multiple of 24x, supported by the correlation of key factors that typically drive the H-share discount. We see H-share valuation as attractive based on its upside vs. our coverage's average return and trading P/E multiples below historical average. We are Buy rated on Lead Intelligent-H.

Investment Thesis - Lead Intelligent-A

Price Target Risks and Methodology - Lead Intelligent

Valuation: Our 12-month target prices for Lead Intelligent A/H of Rmb50.9/HK$46.4 are based on 2027E P/Es of 30x/24x. We incorporate a 20% H-share discount to our A-share valuation based on our regression analysis of the average trading discounts for China Industrial stocks.

Key downside risks to our investment thesis for Lead Intelligent-H/A:

1) A more severe pullback in EV development in China and globally: China EV sales have recorded a declining trend in 2026ytd. As c.50% of Lead Intelligent's total orders are connected to the domestic power battery market, a significant pullback in EV demand would impact net capacity demand forecasts and thus pose downside risks.

2) Weaker-than-expected ESS capacity expansion progress: We forecast ESS' contribution to overall battery equipment orders to be c.40% in 2026E-30E. ESS demand is critical to offset the potential deceleration in power battery demand. Therefore, weaker-than-expected ESS demand would pose downside risks to our revenue and net profit forecasts due to possible disruptions in cash collection, considering weaker ASPs and UTR in a softer cycle.

3) Slower-than-expected expansion in new business segments (solar PV, consumer electronics, humanoid robot, etc.): Lead Intelligent aims to become a high-end equipment platform company. As the contribution from non-battery segments becomes more meaningful to counter the battery equipment segment deceleration, we may see potential downside risks to our estimates if Lead Intelligent pauses non-battery segment development and over-concentrates in the battery equipment segment.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at <https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html>.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are removed pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs' involvement in a transaction, and in certain other circumstances. Early-Stage Biotech (ES). An investment rating and a target price are not assigned pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when this company has neither a drug, treatment or medical device that has passed a Phase II clinical trial nor a license to distribute a post-Phase II drug, treatment or medical device. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price.
